THE AMERICAN VALUES AWARD

There is a close relationship between the historic Jesuit goal of training each student to his or her maximum potential as a "whole person," with refined intellectual and moral knowledge, and such traditional American values as individual accomplishment, personal freedom and dignity, private initiative, service and justice toward others, etc. The John Carroll American Values Award, conferred from time to time by the president of the university, recognizes and honors persons whose lives exemplify these American Values in a significant way. The recipient of the award this year is:

Philip M. Crane, Ph.D.
