John Carroll University Commencement • May 29, 1988

The present Chapel of Saint Francis, which was dedicated by Bishop Anthony Pilla on December 10, 1987, stands on footings intended for the "Bishop's Chapel," on the new campus, in 1935. Cut limestone was ordered for that chapel. It was never completed, and the limestone was lost, destroyed, buried. During excavations for the recreation complex, two stones came to light. They represent Augustine of Hippo, Hildegarde of Bingen, Thomas Aquinas, Catherine of Siena, Ignatius of Loyola, and Pope Pius XI (the pope reigning when John Carroll's new campus was being prepared).

These six survived from the dreams and the stones of fifty years ago. They were learners and teachers; they were men and women; they were clerical, religious, and lay; they took learning seriously, and were familiar with God in prayer. From their new eminence in the atrium, may they survey and bless the comings and goings of their sons and daughters at John Carroll University, as they grace the program of this commencement.

Processional

America, the Beautiful
Led by Michael J. Hart, '89

Oh beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

Oh beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

PRESENTATION OF ALUMNI MEDALISTS

Mr. James M. Mackey, '71
President, Alumni Association

THE ALUMNI MEDAL

The Alumni Medals are conferred annually as the highest award of the John Carroll University Alumni Association upon alumni and others who have, through the distinguished conduct of their lives, either brought extraordinary credit to the university or contributed conscientious service to the Alumni Association, or both. The recipients of the award this year are:

Mr. Edward D. Dickson
Class of 1973

"A most remarkable man," Mr. Stokes read into the Congressional Record about you in June of 1973 upon your graduation from John Carroll University. Our Congressman could not have been more correct in his assessment. You are a remarkable man and a remarkable alumnus. Your education here and your citizenship in Cleveland are a testimony and a tribute to the energy and endurance of thousands of American evening college graduates.

Beginning your undergraduate studies in 1947, you continued them on a part-time basis, when you could, for no less than 26 years. Early in that period you overcame the obstacles presented by a seriously ill spouse and a meager income. Later when you were more able, you did not neglect the extracurricular aspects of your education — you were the founding president of Alpha Sigma Lambda, our fraternity for part-time students. The award for special achievement that fraternity developed in 1967 under your leadership continues to be granted today.

Your career with the United States Postal Service is remarkable. For 40 years you have served Cleveland, our state and the nation through all its ranks and appointed rounds, and now have risen to manage its new marketing and sales programs locally. Still more remarkable, for 21 years you also held a part-time job with the Cleveland Clinic Foundation as an x-ray file clerk.

Your voluntary service is remarkable. For many years, you have been a leader, one of the most productive, in the university's Alumni in Admissions Program, and you are a member of our Minority Affairs Advisory Board. You have served as president and trustee of Calvary Presbyterian Church, in which you have been an active member for decades. You are a member of Omega Psi Phi, the national fraternity for Black university graduates.

You and your Lady Vivian are remarkable examples of the achievement of the American Dream: you worked so hard and so long to become educated; now you can point with pride to your daughter and her husband, both doctors of education.

The Alumni Association honors itself by presenting its Medal of Honor to Edward D. Dickson, Class of 1973.

Mr. John A. Morley
Class of 1955

Borrowing a phrase from Shakespeare, and converting the words of Mark Anthony from the past to the present, the following can best describe John Morley:

"His life was gentle; and the elements
So mixed in him that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world,
This is a man!" (Julius Caesar, Act V, Scene V).

A 1955 graduate of John Carroll University, John entered the business world after receiving his Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration. Among our alumni, few have been more generous, more loyal, or more firmly committed to "spreading the gospel" of the Jesuit tradition and inviting others to experience a John Carroll University education.

John organized the Alumni-in-Admissions Program in the Chicago area and served as Chairman for a three-year period. In working closely with the University and its Alumni Association, he offered recruitment strategies and ideas, enlisted alumni to contact prospective students, and made certain of alumni representation at the area's college recruitment fairs.

Of the more than 350 alumni volunteering to participate in the Alumni-in-Admissions Program, John Morley has distinguished himself for his dependability and his leadership of the program.

For all of his achievements, his absolute dedication and his faithful service to both the Jesuit tradition and John Carroll University, the Alumni Association is honored to present the Alumni Medal to a distinguished son of John Carroll, John A. Morley, Class of 1955.

Board of Trustees

He has been heard to exclaim, in good times and bad, the words of the 19th Century French preacher Lacordaire: "Quelle vie! What a life! And it is yours, oh priest of Jesus Christ!" And what a priest and father he has been to John Carroll University.

Born outside Boston, educated at Boston College, Fordham University, College St.-Albert de Louvain in Belgium, and the University of Nijmegen, The Netherlands, Thomas Patrick O'Malley's life intersected with John Carroll first in 1975 as Trustee, and since 1980 as President. He brought new vigor and a sense of urgency to a university completing its first century of service. This he did with his philosophy embracing the Jesuit tradition of intellectual inquiry; the conviction that prizes a liberal education as the best preparation for a lifetime of learning, and a profound appreciation for the complexities of 20th Century society and the world of work. As he departs this campus, he leaves behind a stronger institution as measured by faculty, students, facilities, finances, support by alumni and an uncompromising dedication to Jesuit ideals.

Fr. O'Malley will be remembered as an academician who enriched John Carroll. And he will be remembered for the man that he is — a man of voracious intellectual appetite. Robust humor and enormous joie de vivre; a man both Catholic and catholic in his devotion to life; a warm human being; an enthralling raconteur; and one of the few men alive who can effortlessly weave into a single sentence the words of Saint Ignatius, Julian of Norwich, and Ogden Nash. A sharp, direct, clear thinker, his love of precise language, beautiful music and liturgy has left its mark on John Carroll. Devout Jesuit, devoted president, wise administrator, tireless fund raiser, progressive educator and passionate theologian, he has served John Carroll well. "Quelle vie! What a life! And it is yours, oh priest of Jesus Christ." To which we say, Amen.

Commencement Speaker for the Class of 1988

THE VERY REV. HOWARD J. GRAY, S.J., is a native of Cleveland, a graduate of St. Ignatius High School and, by reason of an honorary doctorate at the Centennial Commencement of 1986, an alumnus of John Carroll University. He has been Provincial of the Detroit Province of the Society of Jesus since 1983. The Provincial, while not a bishop, is rather like a bishop in his direction of the Jesuits in his area, which stretches from Michigan to Toledo to Northeastern Ohio. He was a long-time rector at Weston School of Theology, in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and a some-time dean there; he comes to his task as Provincial from a rich experience of spiritual direction, and from a deep knowledge of the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. He has been ghostly father to a whole younger generation of Jesuits. He is a careful crafter of language, and has an ear attuned to contemporary language that comes from extraordinarily wide reading. He is very much sought after as a speaker, and his calendar is filled twenty months into the future. He has been a strong supporter of the Jesuit ideal in higher education, both at John Carroll University and at the University of Detroit; and of the Jesuit high schools in the Province, the University of Detroit High School, St. Ignatius High School, St. John's High School-Toledo, and Walsh Jesuit High School.

Honorary Degrees

MRS. SALLY KENNY GRISWOLD was born in Lakewood, Ohio, but moved very quickly to Cleveland Heights, where she grew up in a family of eight. Some of that close-knit family will be cheering her on today. She graduated from Cleveland Heights High School, the University of Michigan, and holds a master's degree from John Carroll University in guidance and counseling. She married Bruce Griswold in 1942. Since Bruce is active in the affairs of the Court of nisi prius, that august body, in its droll fashion, decreed the middle name "kinetic" to Sally, by reason of her community activities. The poetry of Edna St. Vincent Millay is a favorite with her, and especially lines from a poem "Renascence," which is the title poem of a Millay collection. Sally served two terms (eight years) on the Shaker Heights Board of Education. She is a past chairman of the Board of Trustees of John Carroll University, has been a board member of The Federation for Community Planning, one of eleven members of the Distribution Committee of The Cleveland Foundation, and has a host of other community commitments. Bruce and Sally Griswold have four children: Janet, James, John, and Thomas, whose careers are in modeling, the law, the hotel (and now the real estate) industry, and finally, morning drive time broadcasting in Indianapolis, the "Bob and Tom Show," which Counselor Griswold, Sr., hopes is covered by the First Amendment. While on the Board at John Carroll, Sally Griswold was influential in creating the program, "Choices for Women." She is given to writing bits of poetry for family celebrations, when she has time, and when she is home.

THE REV. THOMAS P. O'MALLEY, S.J., entered the Society of Jesus, New England Province, in 1952, after graduation from Boston College and Fordham University. After novitiate and philosophy studies, he taught Latin and Greek, and coached debate, at the College of The Holy Cross, in Worcester, Massachusetts; he went to Louvain, Belgium, and the French-speaking Jesuit House of Studies in Eegenhoven. He was ordained in Brussels, in August, 1961; returned to the United States in 1962-63 for "tertianship," the last part of the Jesuit training; and then went to the University of Nijmegen, The Netherlands, for graduate studies in Early Christian Latin and Greek. Receiving a Doctor of Letters degree in October, 1967, he went to Boston College as chairperson of the Classics Department, and then of the Theology Department; became Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1973. In 1980, he became the twentieth President of John Carroll University. He counts it as his very good luck to have had among his teachers, his parents Austin and Anne O'Malley, George and Jean Bemis, John Louis Bonn, S.J., Joseph Maguire, Rudolph Arbesman, Leopold Malevez, Camille Dumont, and Christine Mohrmann. In 1988-89, he will be a visiting professor in the Biblical Studies Department of the Catholic Institute of West Africa, Port Harcourt, Nigeria.

The Members of Alpha Sigma Nu, the National Jesuit Honor Society, wish to thank Dr. David M. LaGuardia, Professor of English, for accepting their commission to write a poem for the Class of 1988.

JOURNEY: A CELEBRATION

(In memory of Richard McNally and Donald Smythe, fellow voyagers.)

*I dream of journeys repeatedly . . .
I learned not to fear infinity,
The far fields, the windy cliffs of forever,
The dying time in the white light of tomorrow . . .*

*"The Far Field"
Theodore Roethke*

Be still this moment. Husband. Sit close.
Children and the rest. Come round the bed.
Listen to me.
A wild heart beats in your eyes.
In this cheap disguise of nonchalance fear makes himself a fool.
Even in fearfulness, discard your masks and be at ease.
These are times to show each to the other as we are:
lovers, huddled for warmth amid galaxies;
husband, children, friends gathered as if around a single shaft of dying light to celebrate a journey —
out to the far fields,
to the inviting waters,
to a clear, white space beyond the dark.

You will say: but we have had too many wakes.

Have we had then too many births?
Your babes bring sprigs of dogwood to my bony hands.
Have we had too many springs for this dour winter
when our fathers fell from arms,
when our mentors disappeared in a wail of sirens
down the snow's long road?

No. Mentors teach the gift of letting go.
Life is not the broken promise of springs gone sour. Death is not penalty.
In a garden of opposites we sow the seeds;
weeds contend for the fruit we pick.
Black loam nourishes flowers we place
in curls of infants to send them on their way.
All, all is balancing.
In the son's romp, the daughter's eye,
a mother's diamond fire
glistens from paradise.
The sleep you see coming on
is not what it may seem.
Behind closed eyes, rivers dance in twilight,
stones caper in the meadows,
old bones leap and clack round the moon.
I dream now only of journeys,
of destinations not quite known,
from beginnings mapped in a lifelong heart
along roads familiar as your own.
For you are the faces of who I am and where I go.
And what I know of joy comes from the places I have been —
from the sure foot setting out,
the thrill of palms waving from doorways,
the stiff wind, blurred glance,
the horizon burning in the soul.
You are to me family,
clustered as if for some gift,
strange and wonderful.
In simple passage, we hold each other's arms.
I give you journey to celebrate.
I place in your hands the comfort of my peace.
