ORDER OF EXERCISES

PROCESSIONAL

America, the Beautiful

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

INVOCATION

Reverend John A. McGrail, S.J.
University Chaplain and Assistant to the Academic Vice President for Mission

ARCHBISHOP JOHN CARROLL,
AMERICAN EDUCATOR

(1735-1815)

This year, 1989, celebrates The Bicentennial of Jesuit Education in the United States, as well as The Bicentennial of the Establishment of the Catholic Hierarchy in the United States.

It was at White Marsh, Maryland that the Catholic Church in the new republic was organized, that the suppressed Jesuit priests decided to incorporate their landholdings, that the first Catholic school of higher education was planned and, more importantly since this year is a bicentennial year, that John Carroll was named Bishop of Baltimore and so, the first Catholic bishop of the United States.

In September of 1923, John Carroll University changed its name from St. Ignatius College to honor him — a Jesuit until the suppression in 1773, well-read, grounded in history and theology, possessed of definite ideas about a liberal arts education, and open to the new experience of the young Church in the United States. Were it not for Bishop Carroll's determination to secure a place for Catholics in the new republic, many great institutions — such as John Carroll University — would not exist today.

The portrait of Archbishop John Carroll displayed on the cover of this program was painted (ca. 1806-1813) by Jeremiah Paul, Jr. The painting is exhibited in the Chancery Office of the Archdiocese of Baltimore.
