PDE Celebrates 10th Anniversary

WRIGHT BRYAN, CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER editor-in-chief, as he addressed the student body last Friday afternoon. In addition to an explanation of the various phases of newspaper work, Bryan gave an interesting insight into his own illustrious career.

Honorary Frat Plans Activities

By DONALD HAGERTY

John Carroll University's chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, an honorary journalism fraternity, celebrates its tenth year on the campus during the coming week.

The oldest fraternity at JCU, Pi Delta Epsilon was established in 1948 through the efforts of Mr. Bernard R. Campbell of the English department and moderator of the Carroll News at that time.

The purpose of PDE is to promote student participation in undergraduate publications and at the same time to establish a code of ethics among the staffs of the various college publications.

Pi Delta Epsilon fraternity started in 1909 at Syracuse University due to the enthusiasm of those working on the staff of the Daily Orange of Syracuse. The main idea in founding the fraternity was to reward all those who gave liberally of their free time in publishing the paper.

PDE's members are from the three campus publications: the Carroll News, the Carroll Quarterly, and the Carillon. Members must have been on the staff of one or more of the publications for at least two years before they are eligible to pledge the fraternity.

Displays of the three JCU publications, awards they have received, and a PDE history will be in the cloakrooms on the first floor of the Administration building during the coming week.

With the help of Iota Chi Upsilon, William Wagner, treasurer of PDE, designed the display. Ideas were contributed by the members and pledges.

Vice-President Donald Hagerty indicated that the fraternity was happy with the success of the recent University-wide convocation. Editor-in-chief Wright Bryan of the Cleveland Plain Dealer spoke to the entire student body on the different aspects of journalism and interesting happenings of his journalistic career at a recent convocation.

At the present time, the members of PDE at Carroll are: Gary Furin, Gerald Grant, Donald Hagerty, John Lovas, Jim Megeath, Ivan Otto, Joseph Sammon, and Stanley Ulchaker, and Joseph Miller.

President of the chapter Gerald Grant announced that the following men had been accepted as pledges: William Barnard, William Burian, Guerin Avery, John Duffy, John Feighon, John Gerace, Richard Long, David Lowe, Richard McNally, Thomas J. O'Toole, Joseph Rini, and Charles West.

History of Publications Recorded

The first edition of the Carillon was published in 1938. Because the first edition was a financial failure, no book was published in 1939. In 1940, through the efforts of Rev. Horne, S.J., and Rev. Edward C. McCue, S.J., the Carillon was published again.

Mr. J. Donald Roll, S.J., was appointed moderator and William Duffin was appointed editor-in-chief for the venture. The book was published again in 1941 and 1942, but then was discontinued because of the war until 1948.

The Carillon has been published every year since 1948. In 1951 there was no money appropriated for the book until February, and even then, there was very little. The 1951 yearbook is popularly called "the seed catalogue" because of its size. The Carillon has had its real growth only since 1952.

Mr. Bernard R. Campbell was moderator from 1948 through 1950. In 1951 Dr. Richard J. Spath became moderator and is still serving in that capacity. Some of the outstanding editors have been: James Hagerty, who served as editor-in-chief for two years; Dominic Lo Galbe; Christopher Orlic; and Bart Reilly.

The format of the book has been basically the same throughout its history. This year's book will be the first to deviate from the old form. A traditional cover was used on all books through 1951, but last year, a new cover was designed and used. The deep blue cover pictured Grasselli tower in a large circle with a golden background.

Carroll News

Before John Carroll University moved to its present campus, the University had a bi-weekly newspaper called the Ignatian. In 1925, the name of the paper was then changed to the Carroll News.

The format of the News has changed considerably during the years. At its birth it consisted of six pages and was six columns wide on the front page. This size was kept until the war years of 1943-1946 when the paper became a monthly paper and was reduced to 8 1/2 x 11 inches in size. The reasons for the changes were two-fold: to save money and to make it more convenient to send copies to the alumni overseas. After the war, the format reverted to the present size, dropping the slick paper that had been used in favor of the more professional-looking newsprint paper. Four pages were adopted as standard size in place of the former six.

The old News issues make interesting reading; for example:

Oct. 6, 1927 issue declared that the aims of the Carroll News are four: a College of Arts and Sciences on the Heights; every ex-Carroll man an active Alumnus; help in maintaining the standard of studies; and, a live Carroll Union.

October 20, 1927 issue boasts of the rugged JCU football star and team captain "Bedtime" Storey.

February 16, 1940 issue mentions boxing and hockey; Carroll was on top of the Big Four Conference in basketball and on top of the Ohio - Pennsylvania League in hockey competition.

March 1, 1940 issue presents a survey on favorite beverages of Bernet Hall residents:

1. Beer
2. Bottled Beer
3. Beer-on-Tap
4. Water
5. Canned Beer

March 27, 1940 issue announced that Russ Morgan would play for the Senior Prom.

November, 1945 issue bids farewell to the Navy, NROTC, and the V-12 program. The entire front page is one picture as are all the front pages on the little monthlies. John Depke, now of the Cleveland News is mentioned as a Carroll News staff member. Pictures showing Rodman Hall and Bernet Hall show large open areas where Dolan and Pacelli Halls now stand.

Happenings Recorded

Through the years, the paper has been a record as well as an announcer. Stunt nights, dances, and famous speakers coming to the campus all are in the old copies of the News. One edition in 1950 captures all the excitement on the campus when Carroll beat Syracuse 21-16 in the Cleveland Stadium.

Deaths of University Presidents and popes can be found in old issues.

Past editors include Paul Mooney now with the Cleveland Press, Lee Cirillo, Jerry Dorsch, Ed Bresann, George Mihelic, and Robert Melkert.

Carroll Quarterly

Eleven years ago John Carroll's late president, Very Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., introduced the first Carroll Quarterly with a message which defines the role of the campus literary magazine:

"Without pretension that the successive issues will solve the cosmic cryptogram for a bewildered humanity, it none the less supplies a significant opportunity for the student to develop himself in that indispensable adjunct of the successful leader—facility in language."

During the years since James Wey edited the first issue of the Quarterly, the booklet has shown its ability to adapt its policy to the times; it has offered its pages to whoever has significant and stimulating thoughts; it is not the exclusive organ of any one department or group.

Following Wey's editorship, John Callahan changed the Quarterly to its present size. Up to and including William Braucher's editorship of the third volume, the Quarterly sold for twenty-five cents per copy, or for one dollar per year. Patrick Trese edited the first free Quarterly, and Kevin Tobin, followed by Fred McGunagle, maintained a consistently excellent publication, to be carried on by Raymond Reilly.

Reilly added a modern flair to the cover at the beginning of his editorship in 1954. The colorful format and contents of Reilly's issues continued for two years, the longest editorial reign in the Quarterly's history. Moderated by Dr. Richard J. Spath, Reilly and his staff edited an issue commemorating the Ignatian Year in 1956.

Alumni Edition Printed The tenth volume of the University's magazine was under the direction of Charles Novak; this volume saw the production of a tenth anniversary anthology issue.

John K. Hanson, now at the University of Chicago, succeeded Novak and edited the Quarterly's first alumni issue under guidance of Dr. George E. Grauel, head of the English department. Hanson's second edition established the new cover and larger type to be seen in the forthcoming issue in early November.

More important, however, was the new editorial policy of the Quarterly, which proposed experimental and controversial contributions in order to rouse its readers from their lethargic intellectual milieu.

Last year's publications achieved this end to a great degree, and the present editors intend to pursue the same policy. The current editor, David Lowe, aided by a capable staff and an energetic moderator in the person of Rev. Herman S. Hughes, S.J., plans to use the Quarterly as the instrument whereby creative and speculative works can be published in an beneficial and entertaining a manner as possible.

Initiate J-Clinic

Dr. David H. Battenfeld, Carroll News moderator, will conduct a freshman journalism clinic for those interested in writing for the News. The first meeting will be held next Friday at 10:55 a.m. in the News office in Grasselli Tower, rm. 542. Mass excuses will be arranged.
