NEW CARROLL GYM ARRIVES THIS SPRING

Spellman Receives Degree Here

Cardinal Speaks at Special Convocation

American Catholic university men as American citizens "are the pillars of our nation in peace and war," Francis Cardinal Spellman told the faculty and students of John Carroll University last Saturday morning. The Cardinal spoke at a special convocation in the auditorium where an honorary Doctor of Laws degree was conferred upon him by the University.

In Cleveland to address the World Affairs Institute, the Cardinal was introduced to members of the faculty at a reception in the President's parlor following the convocation.

The Cardinal was accompanied to the University by Bishop Edward F. Hoban and Msgr. Vincent B. Balmat, Chancellor of the Diocese of Cleveland. Mayor Thomas A. Burke attended the convocation and the reception.

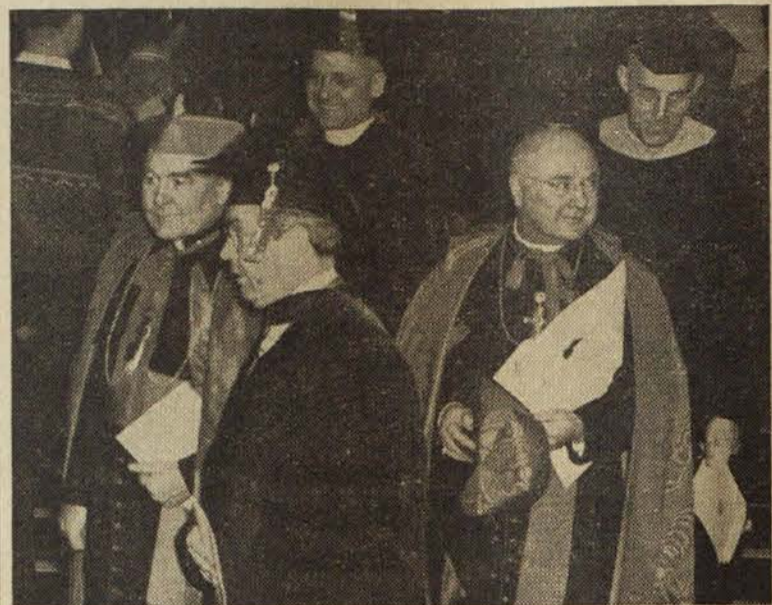

Prexy Extends Welcome

Carroll's President, Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S. J., in welcoming the Cardinal to John Carroll, paid glowing tribute to his work in the field of international peace. "Above the welter of words exchanged between the nations you can always hear his voice calling for the peace of Christ and the justice of Christ in international life," said the President in his welcome to the Cardinal. The President went on to say that, "Truly, if esteem of an act is measured by the dignity and worth of the one who performs it, then we at John Carroll University will never be able to appreciate sufficiently the graciousness and kindness of Cardinal Spellman in accepting our invitation to visit us during his stay in Cleveland."

In responding, Cardinal Spellman said "John Carroll University, as an American and a Catholic university, recognizes and stresses the knowledge that man has a soul as well as a body."

"And who, in quest for a just and lasting peace, is better equipped than an American Catholic university man to contribute to the unity, order and peace of our beloved nation and the world."

Dancers at Guild Mixer To Hear New Orchestra

Carroll's Junior Guild will sponsor a mixed dance in the University gymnasium Saturday evening, January 25. A new Carroll dance band, the Carrollers, will play. Originally set at 75 cents, price per head has been dropped to fifty cents. All University students are invited—both couples and stags. Dancing will start at 9:00 p. m.

Guilde members and night school students make up the committee for the "get-together." Hostesses include Dorothy Hagberg, Betty Sharpe, Ruth Ricciardi, Rita Crider, Linda Sunseri, Loretta Farley, Mary Rachael, and Josephine Cali-quire. Paul Smith, John Sherlock, Russell Patch, Harold Gordon, Vincent Mangione, and Richard Timbers are hosts.

Miss Terry Ross, in charge of publicity, announced that door prizes would be given at the dance.

The mixer will be held just before semester examinations. Exams start the Monday following.

March 16 Is Concert Date

Director Louis L. Balogh announced this week the John Carroll Glee Club will hold its 57th annual concert at Severance Hall, Sunday, March 16. This marks the first time in five years the club will formally present a program in Cleveland's famed music hall.

A balanced presentation of popular and classic numbers is being planned to suit everyone's tastes. Highlight of the evening will be the club's rendition of "The Testament of Freedom" with orchestra accompaniment. Favorite Irish ballads are also on the program in honor of St. Patrick's day, the following day.

Preview Given

A short preview of the concert was given by the club last Saturday when Francis Cardinal Spellman addressed the Carroll student body.

The annual concert is one of the high spots of the social calendar at Carroll. The members are working hard to top the many successes of previous years.

Announcement of ticket sales for the concert will be made soon.

Union Extends Thanks To NFCCS Showmen

The Christmas Show sponsored by the social service committee of the NFCCS for children of St. Edward's and St. Theresa's Orphanages, and the Rosemary Home for Crippled Children was a huge success, according to Joseph Walker, junior class president and director of the show. "It was the greatest enterprise ever put out by Carroll students," Walker said. He hopes the show will become an annual affair.

The Carroll Union publicly thanks all who aided in the success of the undertaking. Thanks go in particular to Henry Paulette, who played Santa Claus; Harry Nash, for his marvelous magic acts; Tom Kenny, who obtained from the Container Corporation gifts for all the children; and Henry Thoma, Louis Turi, and Bob Kilfoyle for promoting the show. Union gratitude goes also to Frank Geis, Jack Latimer, Kevin Berry, Bob Prendergast, Henry Skufca, all members of the Carroll Glee Club, for their fine Christmas carols. Thanks are also extended to Adrian Kofron and her delegation of girls from Notre Dame.

Students of Carroll are congratulated for their cash donation of $62.87.

Carroll Cafeteria

'Not Profit Making Enterprise,' University Superintendent Says

Student Opinion Urged in Letters

Recently numerous complaints have been heard concerning the food service offered by the University cafeteria. The Carroll News, as the editorial voice of the students, has made a survey to determine the substance of these complaints, and interviewed University officials, to obtain their views in this matter.

The main objections being voiced to cafeteria policy are that the menus being offered lack sufficient variety, and that prices are too high. The frequency of these two complaints far outnumbered mention of the quality of the food or the "No Smoking" regulation.

Superintendent Interviewed

In an interview with the Carroll News, Fr. William J. Schmidt, S. J., superintendent of buildings, stated that the cafeteria is operated by the University as a convenience for the students and not as a profit-making enterprise. It is the policy of the cafeteria to serve only highest quality food, and the school would rather charge

Recently Joseph Walker, acting as a delegate from the Union, presented to Father Schmidt a list of complaints about the cafeteria on behalf of residents of Bernet Hall. The Union's suggestions were taken under consideration and put into effect as far as practicable. The higher prices necessary to maintain this policy rather than serve food of lower quality.

Any student who feels that he has a legitimate complaint against the cafeteria should bring the matter to the attention of the faculty prefect in the cafeteria, or to his representative in the Carroll Union, according to Father Schmidt.

Explains "No Smoking" Rule

In explaining the "No Smoking" regulation, Father Schmidt stated there are two main reasons for the ban—the necessity of maintaining cleanliness in the cafeteria and the large number of students making use of the cafeteria. If smoking were permitted, the cafeteria would be hazy with smoke and the floors littered with stubs and ashes, making it an unpleasant place in which to eat long before the noon hours were over. In addition, if large numbers of men were to remain for a smoke after eating, the tables would be tied up for longer times, making it impossible for those coming later to obtain seats.

Mrs. Dyra Won't Talk

Mrs. Eileen Dyra, cafeteria manager, had no comment to make to the News, except to bring out the fact that only government graded "A" beef is sold by the cafeteria, and to suggest that anyone who has not tried to shop for food recently, ask his mother about the problems of purchasing these days.

The Carroll News urges all students who feel that they have legitimate complaints about the operation of the University cafeteria to put their views into a signed letter to the editor and leave the letter in the Carroll News mail box in the treasurer's office. All letters received will be brought to the attention of the Carroll Union.

Carroll Delegates Report on Chicago Meeting of National Student Group

By Andy Foy

Representing John Carroll University at a meeting to plan a National Student Organization, held at the University of Chicago during the Christmas holidays, were Leonard Schneberger and Joseph Walker, president of the Carroll Union and president of the junior class, respectively.

Approximately 310 universities and colleges, including John Carroll, Ursuline College, Notre Dame College, Western Reserve University, Cleveland College, and Penn College in the Greater Cleveland area, were represented at the conference meetings, held December 28, 29 and 30. The NSO is an outgrowth of the conference of the International Union of Students held at Prague, Czechoslovakia, in August of last year. At that time there was no organization of students in the United States, so a board of college presidents selected delegates to represent the American students at the conference. Upon returning home, these delegates began to form the NSO, and called the Chicago conference to plan the constitution for the organization and formulate the policies upon which they will proceed.

Panels Set Up

The conference opened with a business meeting at which four panels were set up, each to submit a report to the conference on the problems before the gathering. These panels were: (1) The organization of a National Continuations Committee, which will write the constitution and remain at the head of the NSO until the constitution is completed and approved. (2) The organization of the Na-

(3) The relation of the NSO to the International Union of Students, and, (4) the aims of the NSO.

When the report of panel member one was submitted to the conference, a very heated debate immediately arose over a proposal that all national organizations with student divisions be excluded from membership in the NSO. The objections were that if such organizations as the YMCA and the American Youth for Democracy (a Communist front, incidentally), were permitted to belong to the NSO, there would be double representation, since all students are represented once through their schools. These national organizations had been among the original members of the NSO who had gone to the Prague conference and subsequently called the meeting in Chicago. So, they vehemently resisted the move to oust them. A compromise was finally reached permitting three of their number to represent all the National Organizations on the National Continuations Committee which will draft the constitution. Their permanent status will be decided by the executive committee in considering the recommendations of the recent convention.

Proposals Accepted

The proposals of panel one were finally accepted, and it was agreed that a National Continuations Committee be formed to carry out the work of the conference. This committee shall be composed of four executive officers, a 33-man executive committee, and a staff committee. The executive officers, who were elected by the convention (one from Harvard, Fordham,

Stunt Night Is March 7

March 7 has been set aside for Carroll's Stunt Night, the evening when anything can happen and usually does. Sponsored annually by the Carroll Union, Stunt Night shows were not staged during the war years.

The last Stunt Night was held in 1941 when the class of '41—then freshman—won the trophy. Most of the members of that class are now juniors or seniors.

Each class will present a half hour stunt March 7 from script written by members of the class. Faculty members of the English Department will act as moderators. The winning class will be awarded the Stunt Night cup now on display in the trophy case.

Thomas Kennedy has been appointed Stunt Night chairman by members of the senior class. The juniors have put Robert Baron in as head of their stunt committee. As yet, sophomores and freshmen have not named their chairmen.

Will Be Erected on Chapel Foundation

Within three months the John Carroll campus will have a completed gymnasium on the site of the present chapel foundation. Acquired through Facilities of the Federal Works Agency and Mr. Henry J. Sullivan, division engineer, the building will take over athletic activities now handled by the gym in the Administration building.

Frosh Dance on Campus Feb. 14

Freshman General Robert Kilfoyle has announced that the annual Freshman Dance will be held Friday evening, February 14, from 9:00 to 12:00 p. m. in the John Carroll University gymnasium. Tickets, priced at $1.50 per couple, will go on sale about February 1.

Assisting Kilfoyle, who is dance chairman, are committee members Jim Gallagher, Terry Martin, Bill Murphy, Jim Slattery, and Bill Kilfoyle.

Music for the affair will be provided by Buddy Murray, who heads one of the most popular young bands in Greater Cleveland. His band, noted for its easy-to-dance-to rhythm, boasts two Carroll men among its members; leader Murray, who is a freshman, and pianist Jack Latimer, a junior.

Although attendance is open to all students, this annual social function is sponsored by the freshman class especially for the members of that class.

Alumni to Frolic In Gym Feb. 8

Alumni of John Carroll will come back to the campus for a one-night stand February 8. The occasion will mark their third annual winter dance to be held in the gymnasium. Willard has been selected to furnish the music between the hours of 10:00 p. m. and 2:00 a. m.

As at previous alumni dances, the get-together will be staged in a night club atmosphere with soft-lighting effects, decorations, and refreshments served at tables enclosing the dance floor.

Preparations are being made to accommodate 400 persons—the crowd expectancy based on attendance of former years. Alumni are being contacted by postcard advising them as to the manner of making table reservations. Cost of bids has been set at $6.00. Friends of alumni are welcome.

Mr. Frank Foley is chairman of the affair and is being assisted by a committee of twenty among whom are the Messrs. John Slattery, Vincent Fornes, and Tim Victory.

Bus Riders Shiver, C. T. S. Still Silent

Hopes of John Carroll bus riders were lifted extremely high last week by an article in the Shaker Heights Sun. The Sun quoted University Heights Mayor Earl W. Aurelius as saying Cleveland Transit officials indicated the present Milton-Washington line would be re-routed to circle the University and serve the Fairmount Circle business district.

When the Carroll News checked this report, it was found to be inaccurate. There is a possibility the route will be changed, but as yet the Transit System has not given their decision. Mayor Aurelius told the News that the reply from the Transit board is not expected until later this month.

Meanwhile, shivering Carroll students are still hoping action will be taken on the petition submitted to the C.T.S. by transportation committees of students and faculty.

Carroll students, who depend on bus transportation to and from the university, look—and are—plenty cold waiting for a coach at Miramar and Washington Blvds. Transit officials, meanwhile, have still to take action on Carroll's petition asking for a bus stop near the campus.

Plan Future Mixers

So successful was the mixer held in the Carroll gym before the Christmas holidays that others are planned for the future. Robert Kilfoyle, freshmen class leader and chairman of the mixer, stated 400 collegians from Carroll, Ursuline and Notre Dame attended.

More mixers will definitely be held, however, the date for the next session has not been set due to examinations.

Guaranteed to Dissolve Confusion

THERE exists among the student body some confusion in distinguishing between the administration and the committee activities of the National Federation of Catholic College Students and the Carroll Union. In order to make these groups distinct and clarify their status, it must first be observed that every student attending John Carroll University is a member of both the National Federation of Catholic College Students and the Carroll Union. Each student is represented locally in university activities by his seat in the Carroll Union and nationally by his voice in the NFCCS.

Thus, under the authority of the Carroll Union, these delegates perform a liaison between the NFCCS and the Carroll Union in order to coordinate the national policy of the federation with the local activities of the union.

Einstein Splits the Atomic Question

OF international importance is this statement of the position of scientists on the atomic question as given by Dr. Albert Einstein in a personal letter a short time ago. It is reprinted from the December 31 issue of The Planet.

"Scientists, who bear a heavy share of the responsibility for the emergence of this immense power, cannot stand aloof while the world drifts towards catastrophe. This, then, is our obligation as we see it—to work for public understanding of the social implications of atomic energy, to give direction and a positive character to national and international efforts looking towards a solution."

JCU Meets Hot Duquesne Team at Arena Tonite

Sporting Around

With Jack Cooper

The Carroll cagers are in perfect position to gain national recognition in their ball game at the Arena tonight.

The Streaks have been playing hot and cold basketball this season to compile a .500 average in six games played.

The boxing team is still trying to line up some opponents. A possible match with Georgetown on February 1 was called off because of a registration week conflict.

This and That: Congrats to Jack Prochaska for breaking all I-M bowling league records with his 600 series.

DT's Lead In Pin Parade; Prochaska Breaks Records

Resumption of JCU's I-M Bowling League after the Christmas holidays found the DT's again in the lead after the Buckeye's held the top spot for only one week.

It was the Greeks who dropped the Buckeyes into second place, with a clean sweep of three games.

Several of the Keglers bested their old tallies by wide margins. A neat 233, rolled by Johnny Bush, is now the third best scored this season.

After reigning supreme in the individual honors race for some time, "Deeks" Zieno, of the Holy Rollers, relinquished his lead to Johnny Bush and Prochaska, both of whom have an excellent 164.

In next week's contests, the Buckeyes will tackle the rising Brew Streaks while the Keglers will attempt to thump the Browns.

Ace photographer Jack Prochaska is also an ace keglers. The Carroll News shutterman rolled a 246 game and a 600 series in Carroll's bowling league.

Meet the Streaks

George Coleman

Captain of the Streak cagers this season is letterman George Coleman. George is playing right guard, and doing a good job of it too.

But Coach Baughman values Coleman for more than his defensive excellence. Perhaps Coleman's chief contribution to the team has been his cool floor directing.

Coleman hails from Holy Name High where he excelled in basketball, football and baseball. His basketball playing brought him All-Scholastic, All-Catholic honors.

Carroll Rips Case, 54-35

By Fray Johns

Displaying by far the best defense to be seen this season in Cleveland collegiate basketball circles, Howard Baughman's Blue and Gold quintet over-powered Case by a score of 54-35 in jam-packed Latin gym January 11.

Inactive throughout the holidays, Carroll returned to the hardwood with a blistering offense that had everything but the necessary luck to facilitate scoring.

Carroll Leads at Half

The second quarter saw the tide of battle change in proportion to the real quality of the competing squads. Carroll's offense started to gain momentum as Big Bill Butler rang up eight points while his scoring mate, John Gallagher, added one point on a free throw.

Case, led by Forwards Groninger and Fischly, improved in the third quarter to give the contest a semblance of equality. The Riders scored 13 points, but their efforts were largely in vain, for the Blue and Gold offense continued to roll up an ever-increasing total.

Carroll Cage Coach Howie Baughman

Meet John Carroll's new basketball coach—Howard Baughman. He's the hard-working gent with "Cleveland Heights" written across the back of his black jacket.

Taking the jump from high school to college, presents its problems. But Mr. Baughman believes there isn't much difference between the two. Collegiate players, however, are older and more mature, and know more about the fundamentals of the game.

With a young team at Carroll, the youthful cage mentor is hopeful of the future here. Most of the present squad members are freshmen and sophomores.

At present, the Blue and Gold has the material to put a capable unit on the floor. Mr. Baughman is favorably impressed and expects them to win their share of games as they improve through the season.

GALLAGHER PACES STREAK SCORERS; BUTLER SECOND

By Bob Knotek

The race for top honors on the John Carroll cage squad is a close one. Jack Gallagher, ace forward from Cuyahoga Falls, is at present leading the Streak hoopsters with 27 field goals and 21 foul shots for a 75 point total.

In their first half-dozen games the Streaks have totaled more points than their opponents. The Streak total of 314 markers, their opponents 309.

One of the lowest scorers on the team has probably been the center of attraction in each and every game this season. He is George Coleman. There is no wonder that he was dubbed the "master of the backboard" by one of the local chroniclers.

Carroll Ready; Dukes Invade City With 10-Game Win Streak

Tonight at 8:00 an unbeaten and proud Duquesne team from Pittsburgh will match an equally proud Carroll five at the Cleveland Arena.

Once again the Carroll quintet is listed as the underdog. However, the Blue and Gold has steadily improved since the B-W engagement at the Ice House. In every game the team has demonstrated the Streak followers an aggressive type of play and a fighting spirit.

The Duke squad, coached by Charles "Chick" Davies, has several combinations, at least one of which is a skyscraper array averaging 6 feet 4 inches.

FOR THE TELEPHONE PUBLIC

Last year, previous telephone records were fractured!

We installed 365,000 telephones, an average of 1000 a day or one third more than in the best previous year.

In 1947... Ohio can look forward to $43,000,000 worth of telephone expansion. This program means more and better service for you.

Bill Butler

Running mate of John Gallagher in the forward position of the cage team is Bill Butler, of Columbus, O. Known on the campus as "Punchy," Bill has been playing superlative ball for the Streaks. Greatly due to his precision play, Carroll can execute the rapid fire plays seen on the hardwood. On offense Bill is among the top scorers of the squad. Defensively he plays equally spectacular ball.

Six foot-four inch Bill hails from Columbus North High. His athletic record at that school is one of which the school may well be proud. As a hardworker he captained the team and was chosen on the All-City squad for two consecutive years. He was awarded three letters for participation in basketball. In track, Bill gained state-wide recognition by his high jumping and discus throwing. In these events "Punchy" was district and city champion and for two years he was state champion with his long throws of the discus.

Entering the navy in the V-12 program; Bill was sent to Carroll where he stayed for four semesters. While at Carroll Bill played on the Navy team as Carroll had no intercollegiate competition. Bill was sent to Pearl Harbor where he played on the receiving station team.

Crowns Win I-M Cage Opener

Resuming the intramural program, Mr. Gene Oberst, University Athletic Director, officially opened activities this past week with an extensive basketball schedule.

The program for this year is divided into the Gold and the Blue Leagues with six teams playing in each. Teams are allowed seven playing members and one manager. Both leagues will feature one round of play with the finalists of each league meeting for the championship of the University. Winners of the championship play-offs will receive silver medals.

Representing the Blue League are: Shamrocks, Falcons, Hawks, Cardinals, Knights, and Shanty Irish; Gold League: Five Crowns, Peasants, Eagles, Tigers, Aces and Sea Gulls.

The opening game of the season found the Five Crowns, paced by Oscar Birchts and Andy and Mike McMahon, copping a hard fought, 21-15 fracas from the Peasants, who were led by Ed Hurley and Bob Waldron.

Veterans . . .

The estimated American veteran population increased by 115,000 during October to reach a total of 17,695,000, of whom 13,744,000 had served in World War II.

About 38 per cent of the veterans receiving self-employment allowances from Veterans Administration live in the five states of North Carolina, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Texas.

Veterans Administration processed over 11,500,000 pieces of incoming mail during October in its program of serving veterans and their dependents.

Almost one out of every two veterans of World War II has participated in the readjustment allowance program through September, 1946, Veterans Administration said.

Howie Baughman . . .

The biggest handicap his team has had so far is lack of practice. The varsity got off to a late start, and they no sooner got settled down when Christmas vacation set in. Many of the schools played right through, but the Streaks took off for the holidays. The record to date is three wins and three losses. Two of those losses were by the narrow margin of four points. The only one-sided defeat came at the hands of a red-hot Wooster team when the Streaks had a let-down after the B-W battle.

Cage fans can expect to see the Blue and Gold play a faster game in the future. While the team was getting accustomed to playing together, Baughman used a slow offense to eliminate wildness. But with improvement, a fast-breaking attack will be employed. The stress is now on speed.

Today's teams are generally stronger than those of prewar days, Mr. Baughman believes. To illustrate, he uses the present Streak squad to draw an interesting comparison. Before the war John Gallagher was a promising star. During the conflict Bill Butler scintillated for the Blue Streaks. A couple years later along come the Howland brothers. In this post-war sports boom all these men are playing together, with additional hardwood experts.

But, he warns, while Carroll has a much stronger team than normally so have the other colleges. If the Streaks are to put a winning five on the floor they must hustle. And Coach Howie Baughman intends to be the man who will head them in that direction.

French Club Draws 21 to 1st Meeting

Carroll's new French Club, under the direction of Mr. Bernard Jablonski, held its first meeting last Tuesday with 21 members in attendance. Election of officers will take place next semester, Mr. Jablonski said.

Meetings are held every other Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. in room 208. Any French student who wishes to join can do so by being present next Tuesday.

At that point the Blue Streaks proceeded to wave goodbye to the Rough Riders as they literally left on a scoring spree.

In a wild fourth quarter, a freely-substituting Carroll squad proceeded to amass 24 points, while Case managed 14. Until the final minutes Carroll's tight defense had limited Case to a meager 28 point total, while the Blue and Gold had run up a comfortable 50. The contest took on the appearance of a minor riot near the end as the Streak reserves, led by Jim Tafelski, who totaled up 6 points himself, reverted to a wide open brand of basketball. At one time, nine out of the ten players on the floor attempted to snare one Case rebound. Mass mayhem was averted as the final gun sounded, giving Carroll its third win by an imposing 54-35 tally.
