Brigadier General David Sarnoff

Class of '50 Hears Sarnoff

By NORMAN MLACHAK

Brigadier General David Sarnoff, Board Chairman and chief executive of RCA, will address 336 degree candidates at John Carroll University's 64th annual commencement, Monday, June 12.

Commencement exercises for the largest class in Carroll's history are scheduled for 4 p. m. on the Terrace of Rodman Hall.

Baccalaureate services will take place in Gesu Church, Sunday, June 11. Addressing the candidates will be the Rev. Edward J. Halloran, assistant chancellor of the Cleveland Diocese, and director of the Holy Name Society. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be offered by the Very Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., President of John Carroll University. Father Welfle to Speak.

Degree candidates will also hear Father Welfle deliver the annual President's message at the commencement program. As is customary, the talk will concern the state of the University.

Brigadier General Sarnoff, nationally known for his contributions to the expansion of radio, television, and electronics, will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Russian born, Sarnoff immigrated to the U. S. in 1906, and 30 years later was elected president of RCA. In 1947 he was (Continued on Page 4)

SIXTH OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

Voters Elect 1951 Officers

Livingston Takes Senior Presidency

Final elections of officers for the senior, junior, and sophomore classes were held in the student lounge on Monday and Tuesday, May 8-9. Winners in the casting of ballots were announced by Jim Conway, election chairman, as the following:

Concerning the election in general, Conway said, "I hope the newly elected officers will be as zealous in voicing their class' opinions as they were in soliciting their votes."

Livingston, the new senior chief, gained a close decision over Jim Haggerty, Carillon editor. Five votes was the difference between the two candidates. Livingston, former sophomore class treasurer, is a pre-med student majoring in biology.

Incumbents Eline, McCaffrey, and Switaj had an easy time with their opponents. Eline was captain on the varsity football team last year, while McCaffrey has been serving as Carroll Union secretary and assistant editor of the Carillon. Switaj is sports editor for the Carroll News.

In the junior elections Sheehan won the nod over Ed Graves by 13 votes, while Dick Cusick gained a decision over Vince Tersigni in the race for treasurer. Cusick's vote total was 141 to Tersigni's 139.

Molohon, Kinney, Beringer, and Rourke all won by comfortable margins in the freshman elections.

Debate Cups Given Today

The President's Debate Cup was awarded to seniors John Devney and Joseph Lawrence at today's annual awards convocation for excellence in inter-collegiate debate.

Both Devney and Lawrence have been active in the Debate and Discussion Club for the last three years representing the University in 50 inter-collegiate debates throughout the Ohio area. Each has appeared on television and radio public discussion programs.

Devney is president of the Debate and Public Discussion Club and was speaker of the 1950 Institute on Public Affairs at Carroll.

Other members of the debate society who received awards at the convocation were John V. Gallagher, Robert Kane, and John Mueller who were presented Debate and Public Discussion silver JCU gavels. Devney and Lawrence also won gavels.

Student Novena

A Sodality-sponsored novena presenting Carrollites the opportunity to offer up prayers of gratitude and petition will begin in the Student chapel, Saturday, May 20.

Students Honored at Awards Convocation

John Carroll's talented students who have performed faithfully and meritoriously in extracurricular activities during the past school year were given due honor and recognition at the Awards Convocation today at 1 p. m. in the University Auditorium.

The Very Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., president of John Carroll University, made the presentation of awards to students cited by 15 organizations as outstanding members. Lending spirit and color to ceremony was the John Carroll University Band, which entertained with such popular selections as "Onward, On John Carroll," "Sons of Carroll," and others.

Jim Conway, Carroll Union prexy, served as Master of Ceremonies for the program, and introduced the moderators of the various organizations. The moderators read the names of students who received awards, and then gave the awards or certificates to Father Welfle. Father, in turn, presented them to the recipients. Preceding the presentation of awards, the student body was addressed by the Rev. Edward C. McCue, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. John M. Gersting, professor of economics.

Russo Honored

Philip J. Russo was presented with the Carroll Commerce Club's "Annual Outstanding Award," at the student convocation today in recognition of his service to the organization.

The award, a custom-engraved 14-karat gold lapel pin, is presented each year to the Commerce Club senior who excels in scholarship and participation in club activities. Rigid scholastic requirements must be maintained by club members in order to be eligible for the honor.

THE REV. WILLIAM J. MURPHY, S.J., presents Carroll Union President James Conway the Man-of-the-Year trophy at Anthesterion Dance.

Man of Year "Oscar" Awarded to Conway

James Conway, Carroll Union president, received Carroll's "Oscar," the "Man of the Year," award at the third annual Anthesterion dance held May 6 in the University auditorium.

The Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., presented to Conway the award which honors that junior or senior Carrollite who has contributed most to the University during the school year.

Final selection from the men nominated by the student body was made by the faculty-student committee including Mr. Paul Bohn, publicity director; Mr. Donald P. Gavin, acting director of the History Department; the Rev. Joseph O. Shell, S.J., instructor in philosophy; Dr. Edward J. Walter, associate professor of mathematics; and John Devney, student union representative.

Conway, an industrial relations major in the School of Business, Economics, and Government, served as president of the Carroll Union during the present school year. Previously he held the secretary's post in the junior class and the Carroll Union.

A graduate of St. Ignatius High School, Cleveland, in 1942 he enrolled at Carroll the following autumn. The war interrupted his education, and for the next five years Jim served in the Infantry, working his way from a buck private to a first lieutenant.

Carroll Greets Visitors

By JOHN NASSIF

Portals of Grasselli Tower will be opened wide to welcome an expected overflow crowd to John Carroll University's sixth annual Open House on Sunday, May 21, from 1 to 6 p. m.

Guests will view displays erected by several departments and organizations of the University on a 2½ hour planned tour of the campus. Members of the Booster Club will conduct the tours.

"The Open House presents an opportunity to prospective students, their parents, friends of the University, and alumni to inspect the buildings and grounds and to observe the University's academic and extra-curricular activities," Mr. Paul T. Bohn, Open House general chairman, said.

Formal letters of invitation have been mailed to 708 pastors and high school principals in the Dioceses of Cleveland, Toledo, and Youngstown, and the cities of Columbus and St. Paul. Enclosed with the letter is a circular composed of a picture of the Administration Building, and the date and time of the Open House.

"In all probability," Mr. Bohn relates, "the Seismology Department, the Physics Department, and the School of Business, Economics, and Government will offer the most interesting projects from an outsider's viewpoint."

A seismograph weighing ten pounds which is used for measuring building and blasting vibrations will be shown by the Seismology Department. The Physics Department's student-assembled $10,000 spectograph, used for analyzing the component parts of gases, liquids, and metals, will be displayed. A robot typewriter that automatically types hundreds of pieces of correspondence from one master copy will be the BEG (Continued on Page 4)

Cirillo Selected News Chief

By JAMES MORROW

The Carroll News received a new chief today in the person of Lee J. Cirillo, managing editor for the past year and author of the popular column "Jest About Anything." The appointment was made by the retiring editor, James K. Morrow, and approved by the Carroll News moderator, Mr. Bernard R. Campbell.

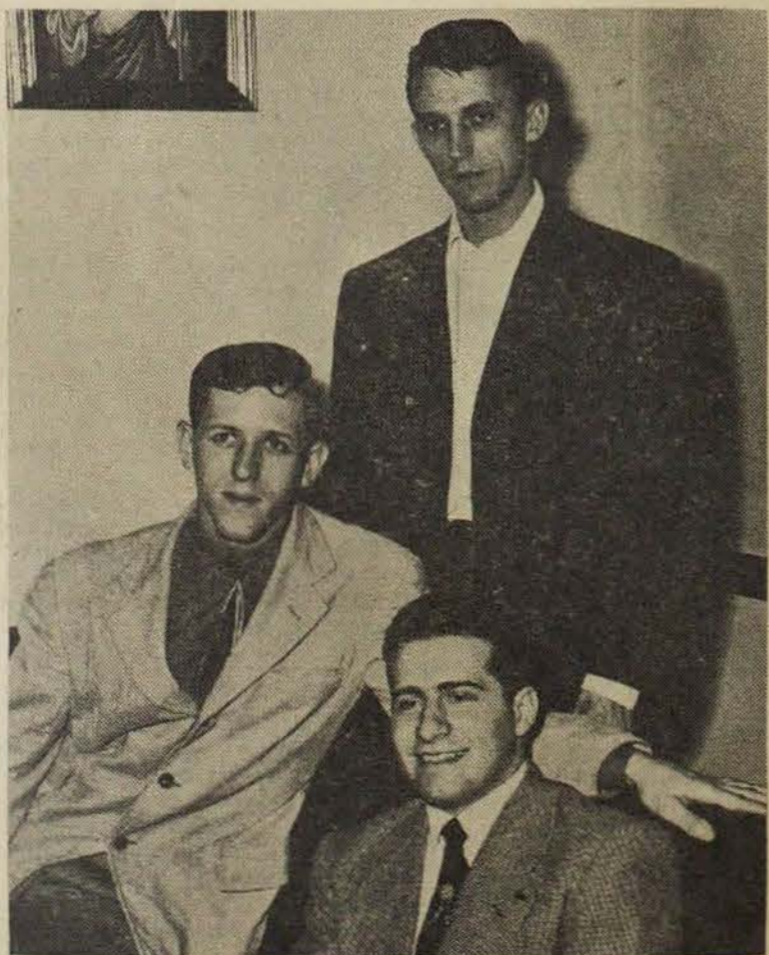

Cirillo, a junior majoring in English and minoring in journalism, is a veteran of three years service on the staff, having served as reporter, feature writer, feature editor, and managing editor. He graduated from Sharon High School in Sharon, Pa.

Moving up to the vacated position of managing editor is John J. Nassif. Nassif served as news editor for the past few issues, and has spent two years as a staff member. Also a junior, majoring in history, he graduated from Cathedral Latin in 1947.

Associate editors will be former co-feature editor Paul Mooney and reporter Norm Mlachak. These two men will perform the duties of news editor, a position now eliminated.

Former co-feature editor Patrick Trese, winner of the Carroll News' best editorial prize for this year, will take over the position of feature editor.

The sports page sees two new faces at the helm as Jerry Miller becomes head authority on sports with Hank Harter as assistant.

Institute Passes Bills to Combat Communism

Three bills pertaining to the foreign policy of the United States were passed during the Third Annual Institute on Public Affairs last Friday in the John Carroll University Auditorium.

Attending were 70 delegates chosen from the colleges and universities of the Detroit region of the NFCCS plus representatives from the various organizations at Carroll.

Combating atheistic Communism with diplomatic, economic, and military means is the main purpose included in each of the bills passed in the assembly. Of the three bills passed the first con- (Continued on Page 4)

Chaplain's Message

Who has been able to study the enticing posters which are turning all eyes towards Rome this year and not feel just a bit envious of those persons who can easily afford the expenses involved in even the cheapest pilgrimage? Undoubtedly for the majority of Carroll students, such a trip to Rome is a luxury item quite beyond their means.

The chief benefit to be derived from a Holy Year Pilgrimage is supposed to be spiritual, but it is easily possible that many return to their homes not one bit closer to God. Countless thousands who must remain at home, with no expense to themselves and with very little effort, do enrich their souls in a way that defies all measurement.

Many of the students at Carroll have taken advantage of the spiritual opportunities that are offered as is evidenced by the fact that over 20,000 Communions have been received since the beginning of January. Perhaps the reception of the Sacraments will require more of an effort during the summer; but if you are looking for an infallible guarantee that your vacation will be happy and spiritually profitable, be sure that the top item on your list of plans for the summer is the determination to receive Holy Communion once every week.

—Rev. Clifford J. LeMay, S.J.

Thespian, Booster Spur Carroll Spirit

This week, the Carroll News salutes two men, Bob Lyons and Bob Rancour, whose energetic leadership in school activities has resulted in many benefits for the University. Their participation in such organizations as the Glee Club and the Little Theater Society has contributed much to the cultural reputation of John Carroll.

Bob Lyons

Now a resident of Lyndhurst, Lyons graduated from Cleveland Heights High School in 1944.

Lyons Majors in Marketing
Upon being discharged in 1946, Lyons made his way to Carroll to begin his profitable career here. A member of the B E G school, he is majoring in marketing. He intends to enter the fields of public accounting and tax consulting after graduation and currently is gaining valuable first-hand experience in these subjects by working in his brother's firm, William E. Lyons and Company.

Lyons has taken part in an imposing number of organizations at Carroll. He is especially proud of his charter-membership in that vigorous group, the Booster Club. He served as vice-president of this club from its organization in the fall of 1947 until March this year and also represented it in the Carroll Union for a year. Questioned about the early days of the Booster Club, he stated that the organization was the fulfillment of the desire of four or five students to set up a club which would spiritedly promote all Carroll social and athletic activities.

Bob Sings Fine Tenor
Possessor of a fine tenor voice, Lyons has been an outstanding member of the Glee Club throughout his stay at Carroll. After acting as program manager of the organization for two years, he held the post of president during the past year. He also continued his activities in the Carroll Union as the delegate of the group to the Union.

Two other organizations which include the hard-working Lyons on their membership rolls are the Commerce Club and the Spanish Club. This versatile senior also applied his many talents to the success of the Varsity Vanities of 1950, in which he played two comedy roles.

Rancour Served in Navy
Cleveland - born Bob Rancour

received a diploma from Elyria High School in 1944. He then joined the Navy and spent two-and-a-half years in that branch of the armed forces.

At Carroll, Rancour enrolled in the Social Science course. As a senior, he carries a heavy subject load of a major in history (Continued on Page 4)

JEST ABOUT ANYTHING

AT PAST YEAR
By LEE CIRILLO

ON TUESDAY night I received an inkling of what the last month of school can do to a man, or even a boy like myself.

I usually write my column on the Tuesday before publication; that is to say, I incorporate all the puns and remarks I have purchased during the week into one comprehensive unit. Evidently someone spread the seeds of truth about, and for the last two weeks no one has said anything even slightly humorous. It was treachery!

So instead of using this space for advertising, we decided it might be appropriate to look through the back issues of the News to see what we missed during the year.

September: The initial month of school is usually hectic, and this year's September was no exception. Father Welfe announced the extensive building plan for the John Carroll of the future. The gridders were done in by the altitude (and Texas Mine's line) in the season's opener, dropping the decision 33-7.

Athletic horizons expanded further when Athletic Director Gene Oberst announced the basketball schedule for the year. Whew! Local pharmacists offered to establish a School of Pharmacy at Carroll, but the lack of adequate space prevented the plan.

October: By the second month of education everyone had more or less become established; so quite a few of the men took off for a weekend in Toledo to attend the annual grid contest with the Toledo Rockets. Outstanding features of the cultural orbit of Toledo are its beautiful museum and the Gaeties, a bistro frequented by TU inmates. It was here a large group of Carroll rosters established a convivial beachhead with a bit of celebrating in mind. The only claim to fame in the Gaeties was a chap who played the organ and piano. Soon after the group arrived Ed Bock won their affections by teaching the maestro, "Onward On, John Carroll." Jim Conway learned the results of promotional errors later in the month when a Carroll caravan (Death Incorporated) left him stranded on the Anthony Wayne Bridge with three boxes of blue and gold bunting. Carroll aped the Indians by starting a mid-season opening game against Marshall, continuing on to what became an "undefeated" season.

November: John Carroll adopted Al Sutphin, and the future of Carroll sports zoomed higher. The Carroll News polled the young ladies of Notre Dame concerning their likes and dislikes of Carroll men. Who said that the Gallup poll was the only foible of the year? Ticket prices for football games were reduced; the Little Theatre Society started its largest year of productions with "The Family Upstairs;" and mid-semester grades were due at the Dean's office, already.

Rita McQuigan was chosen Football Queen, and the Boosters became the talk of the day with their plans for an elephant parade at the B-W game. Carroll was going to be the only college in the country to crown its Football Queen on the back of a pachyderm.

December: Almost everyone likes December, lots of social activities and so little class time. Eighteen local stouthearts were elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. A spurious "Pope" arrived majestically on the campus with a soap box under one arm and a sheaf of "papal" literature under the other. At Carroll for the specific purpose of handing out the few remaining cardinal hats, the "Pope" wasn't too successful, especially when the "Swiss Guards" of the University Heights removed him from the campus.

January: Basketball became the order of the day in January. Things revolved around the hardwoods sphere as the earth does around the sun. The Juniors (an illustrious class) threw their annual promenade at the Allerton. Tickets for the Carroll-Notre Dame game were as scarce as the hair on Edgar Bergen's head; and then after we did manage to get a few ducats, the golden boys from South Bend dropped the Streaks in a foul (and it was) shooting contest. This was really the year for the big boys. Anyone who showed up on the courts standing less than six feet was immediately assumed to be a referee or a stray peanut vendor. Semester exams arrived with the usual pangs of remorse, and things quieted down for a while.

February: After vacation joys and semester grades were forgotten, notes from the Registrar's Office suggested that we jaunt over to the Heights for registration put a damper on the party. February concluded with a happy note though, the Streaks dumping B-W in the last game 68-54.

March: March, so says a hoary old maxim, comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb. This year it came in like a polar bear. For a while the coal strike threatened to close down the education mills, but no such luck—the scholars stood it out.

The Carroll Irish paraded on St. Pat's day despite the foul weather. Saturday classes for summer session and regular sessions were happily discarded by the Academic Council after local businessmen complained that Carrollites weren't spending enough money on Friday night dates.

Carroll's thespians announced their application for membership in Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatic fraternity. Weight-conscious seniors found that their rings were shy two penny-weight of copper. Refunds were made, and anyone who hasn't collected his two penny-weight of copper may collect his lump in the bookstore.

April: The month of showers slipped onto the campus amid the furor started by the Seniors concerning the name of the Senior Prom. Every senior in the school had an opinion—some had more—and then the whole class forgot to attend their own dance. Well, a few did show up.

Fancy uniforms, it was announced, will be prevalent on the campus next year when Carroll has its own cadre of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Imagine being courtmartialled for late assignments.

Charlie Spivak and the amiable crowd made the Senior Prom (for underclassmen) a notable social success for the year.

May: Political speeches and more political speeches became the order of the month. Everyone in the BEG school started getting the Comprehensive Quakes. Picnics were planned; the Frosh had their dance at the Lake Shore Hotel and everyone agreed that it was warm and springy outside...

Good Duty

We started off the school year with a series of editorials on school spirit. It seemed to us last September that student activity was on the up-grade, but the job of silencing the grippers and the moaners seemed monumental. Today, the clubs are winding up the year with triumphant banquets, awards, and elections, and, looking back, we think that Carroll spirit has been booming.

Carroll has had concerts and plays and musical reviews; the intra-mural athletic competition has been hot and heavy; the majority of the dances have been smash successes. The football and basketball teams are still sweaty from the hard work of spring practice, and the tennis, golf and track teams are battling away.

Without exception the clubs at Carroll have had a boom year; the dean's list is a little longer; the moaners and groaners are definitely in the minority.

We feel that the credit for the rise in student spirit lies not with the moderators or the campus politicians, but with the boys that roll in every morning on the Washington-Milton bus and leave wearily, late at night.

Congratulations!
Next year should be even better.

Six on Carroll Library Staff Ably Handle 57,000 Books

By TOM DUGAN

Searching back into the records of the dim past one finds that the library has been a part of John Carroll since its very early days as St. Ignatius College. The present library on the third floor is a far cry from the old one, probably then consisting of a few books under the care of a part-time librarian. Six full-time workers constitute the present staff which handles 57,000 books and magazines.

The reference room, wherein is contained every type of reference book ranging from Moody's Industrials to Who Served in World War I from Ohio, is as far as the average student gets. The majority of the books and magazines line the narrow aisles of the rooms leading off the hall.

Books Brought to Desk

Because of these cramped quarters the student has to wait at the desk until one of the librarians, usually Miss Bettye Day, places the book in his hand. This method doesn't supply the satisfaction of browsing through the stacks, but at least it is easy on the lazy man.

Books on the reading lists and on the open shelf form the exceptions to the rule. The open shelf was recently inaugurated with a selection of books for which a small charge is made. The purpose is to use the money thus collected to purchase more books and thereby enlarge the stock of up-to-date publications.

Duties Are manifold

Publishing houses send advertisements of all books to Miss Leah Yabroff, head librarian. She, in turn, gives them to departments which would be interested in the book. If it is decided to purchase the book, Miss Patricia Gates orders it. Upon arrival of the book, Mrs. Florence Dillhoefer, using Library of Congress cards whenever possible, assigns the Dewey Decimal Number and lists the books under author, title, and subject. These cards are then typed by Mrs. Rita Miller and put in the files.

A duplicate set of cards is sent to the Library of Congress. This last-mentioned procedure is to enable any library in the country to know the location of a desired book. Carroll's library is thus able to borrow books from any college or public library throughout the United States.

One of the four student assistants stamps the number on the book, and it is placed in the files ready for use. This procedure is followed for all books, not just the payment ones.

Naturally with a staff this size everyone must frequently help with another's job.

Magazines Serve Students
The library also contains an extensive backlog of magazines. Recent issues are kept in the reference room, except for a few like "Life" and "Post" which must be obtained from the desk, and older issues, if unbound, are on the shelves of one of the rooms off the hall. No matter where they are, Mrs. Mildred Cawthorne is in charge of all periodicals.

Staff members attend to the displays along the walls. Some pictures are cut from old magazines or purchased for the express purpose of a display. These are changed frequently to maintain or stimulate interest in certain books or authors. All in all, Carroll's library supplies very adequate coverage of every field included in the University's curricula.

It's Spring Again

Reporter Kevin Tobin wandered into the student lounge last Friday and found 27 students huddled about biology major Ed Minch and his rather unique companion (see above). Minch was the proud possessor of a Blue Racer snake, one of the largest seen at Carroll in many weeks. The snake was Minch's contribution to the biology laboratory.

Sensing a possible story, Tobin trailed the snake and its owner, searching all the while for a photographer, and discovered among other things that the snake had a chest expansion of four inches. Minch also had on his person a craw-fish (not shown) in a jar.

Syracuse Signs To Meet Carroll

Voices Regret As He Bids Reluctant
Farewell-To-Arms

The time comes in the life of everyone when he has to say good-bye to someone he loves, or to leave the things he has enjoyed doing. Such an occasion now confronts me, and I regret very much that I have to leave the position of sports editor. With this, the last issue of the Carroll News for 1950, I would like to bid all the readers of this page farewell. One thing I am sure of, and that is that the people I have been associated with as sports editor will live in my memory forever. I also hope that all those people who took offense to some of my writing have had their wounds healed. I realize that at some time or another I may have offered some criticism, but at all times it was meant to be constructive.

The position of sports editor next year will be filled by my very able assistant Jerry Miller. He takes over the reins next year and will have Hank Harter as his assistant. I am sure Jerry will add much color to the page.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all the reporters, who worked with me, for the splendid job they accomplished. The winning of the award for the best bi-weekly in Ohio is a reflection on all the members of the staff. Each one played as important a part as the other. The award proved that if an organization works together, the awards will surely follow. About half of the sports staff will be returning next year, but the absence of such names as Bill Stredelman, Dick Sweeney, and Tom Bachman will be sorely missed. Their work was of a high standard, and such that will be hard to replace. I would also like to thank Filer Williams, Ed Kelly, Ray Markiewicz, Tom Krause, Jim Porter, Bob Livingston, Harter, and Miller for their sincere cooperation.

This notification of my retirement from the Carroll News will probably make some of my professors happy; now I will be able to devote a little time to my studies. I will no longer be able to give work on the Carroll News as an excuse. One who will be extremely happy of this is Father Miller.

Before we bring this to a close, I think the name of Chuck Sheboy deserves mention in this column. Chuck, who is in the graduate division at Carroll, and who also is assistant to Father Weber, is one of the most ardent sports rooters at Carroll. He not only cheered the teams on to victories, but aided the managers in the handling of all the different equipment. There should be more like Chuck at Carroll.

To all those whose names should appear on this page, my deepest apology. We tried to do our best, and if we did overlook anyone, it was not done maliciously.

Ravello Stars On Golf Links

One of the leading linksmen on the Carroll golf squad this year is Bob Ravello. This personable, curly-haired Italian, who loves to argue with his Irish buddies, hails from Somerset, Penn., a town of 10,000, near the turnpike. Like many good golfers, Bob got his start in the trade as a caddy, beginning at the ripe old age of 10. Since that time the Somerset Country Club has been his second home. Bob got his best score there a year ago firing a blazing 69.

After graduating from Somerset High, Bob enlisted in the Navy and served a year and a half aboard the seaplane tender, Pine Island. He enrolled at John Carroll in 1947 and is now a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, majoring in history and minoring in education. Teaching and law school are in his future plans.

Ravello, who considers golf the finest sport for exercise and enjoyment, likes it to be known that he shoots from the port side. It seems that there has been a stigma attached to left-handed golfers, and Bob is doing his best to erase it. His consistently fine scores are to be all the more praised when one considers that he has been away from the game for about a year and until recently was working 30 to 40 hours a week besides carrying a full schedule.

Thinclads Top Hiram

By Ed Kelly

Showing vast improvement in all departments, John Carroll's track team listed its first victory, against Hiram, on May 10, and lost to Fenn by three points last Saturday.

Fenn won the last four events to overhaul the Streaks, 65-63, at Cuyahoga Heights High school. With Carroll leading 56-40, Fenn swept the two mile and mile relays, and won the high jump and broad jump.

Football Star Burrell Shields was Carroll's principal entrant in the latter two events, but he could do no better than second in either. He had previously finished second in the 440-yard dash.

Billy Malone paced the Streaks with 11 points, winning the high and low hurdles and taking a third in the high jumps. Shields' three seconds gave him nine points.

Ed Sullivan and Ernie Ament accounted for new Carroll records in the weight events. Ernie tossed the shot 44 ft. 4 1/2 in. and Sullivan heaved the discus 132 ft. 7 1/2 in.

Shields, a versatile athlete, was the top point getter as the Blue Streaks defeated a host Hiram team, 73-54.

Burrell took the high jump and broad jump and was third in the half-mile as Carroll won 10 of the 15 events. Ament was also a double winner, taking the shot put and edging Sullivan in the discus.

Although outclassed, Carroll's thinclads scored 17 1/2 points against Baldwin-Wallace and Detroit in a triangular meet at Berea on May 6. Ament won Carroll's only victory in the shot put.

Golfers Take Two of Four

In a closely fought match at Baldwin-Wallace on May 5, the Blue Streak divot diggers eked out a 6 1/2-5 1/2 victory over the Yellow Jackets. Once again Carroll turfster Bob Ravello was low scorer, with a total of 77 tries at the sphere being carded on his tally-sheet.

On the following Monday, the Heights' fore-man went down to defeat at the hands of Toledo greensmen on Carroll's home grounds. Marking up 11-1 points against the Streaks, the visitors' low scoring honors went to Don Kennedy of their aggregation.

Splitting a double greens engagement last week, the Streaks golf devotees overcame Case putters 6 1/2-5 1/2 at Chagrin Valley on May 11.

In a tete-a-tete with the YoCo Penguins at Mahoning Country Club on May 13, the Streaks unwillingly took the lesser half, to the tune of 11-1.

Contest Completes Football Schedule

By BILL STREDELMAN

With the signing of Syracuse University to meet John Carroll next Nov. 10, in Cleveland Stadium, an aura of "big-time football" was added to the Blue Streak's 1950 football card. The game, marking the first meeting between the two schools, was arranged on a one-year basis according to an announcement made this week by officials of the two schools.

Rated as one of the East's rising grid powers, Syracuse

Illiano Men Lose Fourth

Still hungering for the taste of their first victory, Coach Dick Illiano's netters extended their losing streak to four straight, by going down to defeat at the hands of Youngstown and Hiram, 6-3 and 5-4 respectively.

At Youngstown, Dick Ennen of the Streaks, won his second singles victory of the season by defeating Bill Hauser, 10-8, 6-3. Captain Jack Friedel of the same side defeated John Boliver of the YoCo's, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4. Pat Deighan of Carroll notched the most convincing singles match by downing his Youngstown opponent Jim Battafarano, 6-4, 6-0.

Hiram Match Is Thriller

Roxy Novario started the Streaks' scoring after the score stood 2-0 in favor of Hiram by defeating Bill Thompson 2-6, 7-5, 6-1. Wally Walsh followed Roxy with a 8-6, 4-6, 6-4 win over Dick Ludwig. Then after Bill Ranft lost to Ernie Williams of the Terriers in two straight sets 6-3, 6-2, Bart Ebisu tied the singles up at three-all by edging George Owen, 6-4, 6-4.

annually plays some of the strongest teams in that section of the country. Last season the Orangemen wound up with a record of 4 wins and 5 losses. They defeated Lafayette, Rutgers, Holy Cross, and Colgate, while losing to Boston University, Temple, Fordham, Penn State, and Cornell.

This will be the second season at the helm of the New Yorkers for Coach Floyd Schwartzwalder, who arrived at Syracuse via a three-year tenure in a similar position at Muhlenberg. A comparative newcomer to collegiate coaching ranks, Schwartzwalder was a star center at West Virginia University for three years. After graduating in 1933, he coached the grid sport at various high schools in West Virginia and Ohio. Following a hitch as a paratrooper in the European theater of operations during the recent war, he took over the head coaching reins at Muhlenberg in 1946, and moved to the New York school last spring.

Schwartzwalder has a nucleus of 25 lettermen returning from last year's team, and from all appearances should have a greatly improved club with plenty of depth in every position. In a recent spring practice game with St. Bonaventure, Carroll's opponent in the season-opener, the Orangemen displayed a powerful aerial offensive coming out on the long end of a 40-32 score.

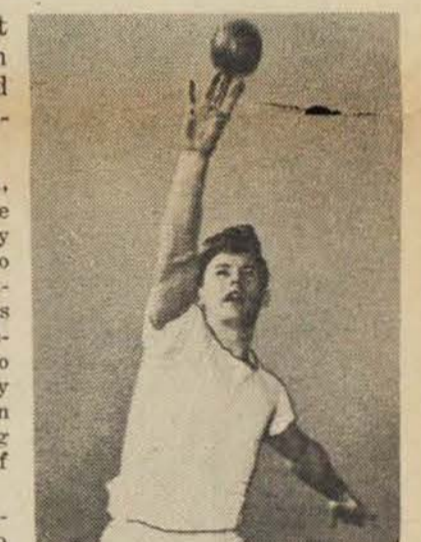

Meet Ernie Ament

The honor of being the most consistent point getter on the Blue Streak track squad must be accorded to shot-putter Ernie Ament.

A letter winner last season, Ernie has failed to gain first place but once this year. In an early season meet he placed second to big Bill Kerslake, Case Tech's outstanding musclem. Ernie feels that he will surely avenge that defeat when the Streaks journey to Baldwin-Wallace for the City Championship Meet. Against Fenn last week he turned up by letting fly with a new school record of 44 ft. 2 in.

The muscular 185-pounder excels not only in the shot but also hurls the discus with satisfying results. He consistently places second to his teammate, Ed Sullivan, in this event. In the defeat of Hiram he twirled the disc 124 feet for a personal record. It's easy to see why Coach Dick Tufta relaxes confidently when the field events start.

Ernie, a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, shines with equal brilliance in the classroom.

Last semester his fine record placed him far up on the Dean's List. A native of Anamosa, Ohio, he attended Campion High School, where he acquired a genuine liking for Greek from the Jesuits. This prompted him to attend John Carroll and major in his favorite subject. He hopes to earn his doctor's degree in Greek at Catholic University.

Isolation Bill Defeated
A fourth bill proposed by the minority group of the Military Committee, which in content was in favor of the isolation of the U. S., was the only bill defeated.

The delegation elected John Devney, speaker of the house; Arthur Grumney, vice-speaker; Miss Dorothy Pavlin of Ursuline College, secretary; and Edward O'Brien and Reginald Lyman, clerks for the assembly at the joint committee meeting on Thursday night at Carroll.

The three committees were headed by Francis Kleinhenz, diplomatic; Frank Bitzan, economic; and Joseph Lawrence, military.

This Third Annual Congress, which familiarized the students with the how and why of present world legislation, was sponsored by the Departments of Speech and History and the Debate and Discussion Society, under the directorship of Mr. Vincent S. Klein.

elected chairman of the RCA Board of Directors, and still retains that position although he resigned his presidency in 1948. Receives Legion of Merit

During World War II, Sarnoff served as Chief Signal Officer in Washington for several months. The Brigadier General also saw duty as special consultant on Communications at SHAEF. For the time and effort contributed by Sarnoff to the war effort, he was awarded the War Department's Legion of Merit Medal.

Recipient of the only honorary degree to be presented by the University this year, the Brigadier General already holds 9 honorary degrees. The law degree which he will be given will be his third of the kind.

Hold Picnic and Dinner-Dance

Comprising social activities for the prospective graduates are the traditional stag picnic and dinner-dance.

The stag picnic, a beer and baseball affair, will take place at the Richmond Country Club, Monday, June 5. Scheduled to start at 3 p. m., the outing will cost each senior one dollar. Those planning to attend are asked to make their payment by June 1 to Miss Jane Thompson in the Dean's office.

Graduating seniors and their companions will be guests of the University when they attend the banquet and summer formal, Wednesday, June 7. Uniforms of the day will be white dinner jackets and evening gowns. Festivities will begin at 7 p. m.

Mike Gallagher, president; Greg Moffitt, vice president; and John Burns, secretary. They will hold office from now until next May.

Mu Theta, Carroll chapter of the national honorary fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega, elected the retiring officers of the LTS to the same positions in the newly formed chapter. The officers are: Bob Rancour, president; George Frye, vice president; and Don Thomas, secretary. These officers will serve until Sept., 1950.

On Wednesday, May 10, the officers initiated the following eligible LTS members: Reg Lyman, Bob Kane, Jim Morrow, Glenn Messer, Bill Hough, Frank Kysela, Mike Gallagher, Greg Moffitt, and Mr. Leone J. Marinello, faculty director of dramatics.

Retiring Prexy Rancour announced that LTS keys, given for two years' active participation in some phase of dramatics, will be presented to the following four members: Jim Morrow, John Nassif, John Sherlock, and Don Thomas.

Kehoe Heads Dorm Council

Luke Kehoe, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, was elected president of the Dorm Council at a meeting held recently in Bernet Hall.

Kehoe comes from Chicago, Ill., where he was graduated from Calumet High School. Before enrolling at John Carroll he served two years with the Navy. Now majoring in history, Kehoe is considering a career in law upon completion of his undergraduate studies.

The president's assistants for the coming year are Joe Murphy and Bill Malone selected as treasurer and secretary, respectively. "I want to bring about a good understanding between off-campus students and resident students," Kehoe said. "I also want to give the resident student wholesome social activities as well as intelligent representation in school government."

The new dorm chief reported that the Dorm Picnic which was held at Chagrin Falls yesterday had been voted for at the election meeting the first part of May.

Profs Choose Officers

The John Carroll University chapter of the American Association of University Professors held their annual election of officers on Friday, May 12.

Dr. Edwin F. Gilchrist, associate professor of biology, was elected president; Dr. Harold A. Baker, professor of marketing, was elected vice-president; Mr. Arthur J. Noetzel, Jr., assistant dean of the School of Business, Economics, and Government, and Dr. Edward J. Walter, associate professor of mathematics, were elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

At a recent meeting, senior class members decided to make an annual $5 contribution for the welfare of the University. Half of the donation will be given over to the Alumni Roll Call and the rest will go into a Class Fund. After a few years, the money in the Class Fund will be used to purchase a gift for the University. The nature of the gift will be decided upon by the class members and the University President.

Funds contributed to the Alumni Roll Call are used for scholarships, benefits, and other programs designed to aid the University.

and minors in education, mathematics, and English. He aims at becoming a high school teacher and last semester was engaged in explaining the mysteries of geometry to East Tech students. He plans to concentrate his professional teaching activities upon mathematics and English.

Bob Active in LTS
Rancour is probably best known to followers of Carroll activities for his accomplishments in the Little Theater Society, of which he has been a member since his freshman year. Perhaps his most outstanding part was the title role in the production of "Everyman" presented earlier this semester.

His consistent performances and his efforts in behalf of the society led his fellow-members to elect him vice-president of the group for the 1948-1949 school term and to choose him as president for the school year just ending.
