Queen Florence Hickey

MURRAY NAMED PROM KING King, Queen Feted at Prom

THE SENIOR PROM Committee gathers around publicity posters for 26th annual dance. Standing: Jud Whelan, Jack Reilly, Jim Sennett, Joe Pilla, Joe DeGrandis. Seated: Ken Ryan, Tim Ryan, Pete Corrigan, im Conway.

The 26th annual Senior Prom, climax of Carroll's 1948-49 social season, will be held in the Statler Hotel Wednesday evening, April 20. Approximately 475 couples are expected to attend. Prom King Buddy Murray, who was chosen by the seniors last week, and his Queen, Florence Hickey, will be honored in the traditional ceremonies.

Elliot Lawrence and his collegiate band will hold sway in the Statler's main ballroom with their smooth but swiny brand of syncopation which has made them famous.

Arrangements have been completed by the prom committee to have station WTAM network the prom from midnight to 12:30 a.m. Included in the broadcast of songs will be the Lawrence arrangement of the Carroll Alma Mater.

Honored guests at the prom will be the Very Rev. Fredrick E. Welfe, S. J., president of John Carroll; the Rev. Edward O. McCue, S. J.; Mayor Thomas A. Burke and Mrs. Burke; and Judge James C. Connell and Mrs. Connell. Rooms Available for Parties

From festivities yesterday received a boost with the announcement made by the Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., that rooms at the Statler for post-prom parties can be had through his office. Rooms can had only through Fr. Murphy's office, with Tuesday, April 12, the deadline for reservations. Disciplinary action will be taken against anyone obtaining a room on his own.

3 "Graphs" Displayed Downtown

Three seismographs from the John Carroll University and St. Louis University seismological observatories will be on display from April 21 to May 2 in the window of the Second Federal Savings and Loan Association, Williamson Building, Euclid Avenue near the Public Square.

"The instruments will be described and a Wiechert Seismograph will be in actual operation," said the Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer, S.J., director of the Carroll observatory.

A working model of the Choko seismoscope invented by the Chinese around 100 A.D. and a modern portable type seismograph used in prospecting for oil will also be on display. The Choko seismoscope is the forerunner of the modern seismograph and illustrates the progress of seismology when compared with the seismograph used in prospecting for oil.

WSRS Airs Panel

A panel discussion between John Carroll University and Case Institute of Technology students was aired over radio station WSRS on the "Family Forum," last Wednesday evening from 9 to 10 p.m. The topic under debate was "Should Federal Aid Be Granted to Education."

The students representing John Carroll were Tom Gibbons and John Callahan, editor of the Carroll Quarterly. Case Tech took the negative view while Carroll men carried the affirmative.

Coronation ceremonies will be held at approximately 11 p.m. Traditionally the senior class will form an aisle through which the King and Queen and committee members will promenade to the bandstand throne. Here the Queen will be crowned and presented with a bouquet of 26 American Beauty roses, one for each year of the prom's existence.

Murray Selected King

King Murray, who was elected in last week's elections, is a pre-med student to be graduated in August. He is widely known in Cleveland as the leader of his own band and recently played for the Western Reserve senior prom. Miss Hickey is a 1948 graduate of Notre Dame (Continued on Page 4)

Debaters Cop Detroit NFCCS Speech Prize

Arthur Grumney and Thomas Gibbons defeated Robert Wilder and James Beall of Detroit University in a debate here last Wednesday to win the NFCCS, Detroit Regional Debate Championship.

Dinner Fetes Jubilee

Celebrating a Silver and Golden Anniversary the same evening, the President's Dinner will be held Wednesday, April 27, at 8 p.m., in the Carter Hotel for all alumni.

Bishop James A. McFadden, Youngstown prelate, is guest speaker, representing his 1899 Carroll class. The Silver Jubilee of the class of '24 will also be duly honored.

Prof's Donate CARE Boxes; Receive Gifts

Carroll's chapter of the American Association of University Professors has been sending three CARE boxes a month to European universities, for the relief of foreign students. In recognition of receipt of several boxes, the Sacred Heart University in Milan, Italy has sent the JCU library rare printings of their Italian literary works.

The local committee includes fifteen John Carroll faculty members, headed by Dr. Rene Fabian of the languages department. The selection of universities to receive boxes is left to Dr. Fabian. So far, boxes have been sent to Germany, Italy and Austria.

CARE boxes contain 22 pounds of food and usually cost around $10. Money is contributed by the fifteen committee members and the amount collected is matched by the Carroll treasury. Many letters of thanks have been received by the school.

Spanish Club Hears Radu

Foreign countries offer endless opportunities in the sales field for those Americans who are willing to "do as the Romans do." This was the general theme of the talk given by Mr. Titus Radu at last Monday night's Spanish Club meeting. Mr. Radu, foreign sales manager for the Arco Paint Company, was educated in Roumania and later graduated from Western Reserve University here.

"Acquiring the customs and habits of a country is possibly more important than the other prerequisites of initiative, patience, and diligence," said Mr. Radu. The speaker also outlined the predictable obstacles such as tariffs, and the unpredictable difficulties such as an occasional revolution.

According to Joe Brady, secretary of the club, an election of club officers and a discussion of plans for the picnic tentatively planned for May 15, will take place at the next meeting, April 19. President Bernard Dragon urges all members to attend the election.

Holiday Extended; News Staff Off Too

Out-of-town students will be able to spend Easter Sunday at home this year. The Rev. Edward C. McCue, dean, approving a request by Union delegates, has extended the vacation one day so that students will not have to return to classes until Tuesday, April 19.

Carroll News staff members will also be on vacation. Consequently the next issue of the News will appear Friday, May 6.

Faculty Attends Congress

OCA Hosts JC; Klein Heads Speech Group

Today, faculty and administration representatives from John Carroll are attending the first sessions of the Ohio College Association two-day convention, meeting at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel in Columbus.

This annual meeting of Ohio educators is called for the purpose of hearing the reports of the various committees on their activities for the year.

Of the faculty, Dr. Hugh Graham, director of the Education Department is a member of the Educational Legislation Committee and Mr. Vincent S. Klein, director of the Speech Department is chairman of the committee for the teachers of speech. Others attending are the Revs. Frederick E. Welfe, S.J., William J. Schmidt, S.J., James A. Mackin, S.J., Howard A. Kerner, S.J., and Messrs. Fritz W. Graff, Charles J. Cooney, George E. Grauel, Douglas B. McEachen, James M. Sweeney, Jr., and Paul T. Bohn.

Glee Men Schedule 2 Spring Concerts

Under the baton of Dr. Louis L. Balogh, director, John Carroll University's Glee Club will be featured in two concerts during the month of April.

Combining talents for the benefit of the Sisters of the Most Holy Trinity, the Glee Club and the Notre Dame Chorus will present a benefit concert in Public Auditorium on Friday, April 22, at 8 p.m.

Continuing its spring concert season, the Glee Club will travel to Toledo where it will sing on Sunday, April 24, under the auspices of the Toledo Alumni Association of John Carroll University.

Madame Herva Nelli, leading dramatic soprano of the Philadelphia La Scala Opera Company and featured over NBC with Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orchestra, will be guest soloist of the Public Auditorium concert. She will sing several operatic arias. Miss Marion Tafelski, well-known in Toledo operatic circles, will be guest soloist at the Toledo concert.

In the Cleveland concert the chorus will be accompanied by a wind symphonette, composed of members of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, in its presentation of "The Highwayman" by Dr. Balogh and "Old Bangum" by Richard Donovan.

The Glee Club will present a similar concert in Toledo. Miss Tafelski will sing Schubert's "Ave Maria" with vocal background by the Glee Club. Raymond Patton, Glee Club accompanist, will accompany the club in all of its works in the Toledo Concert.

WNBK Considers Grasselli Tower TV Transmitter

Representatives of Station WNBK, NBC television station in Cleveland, recently visited the Carroll campus to inspect Grasselli Tower as a possible location for a television transmitter.

Being the highest point around Cuyahoga county, except for Brecksville, on-the-spot broadcasts from the Heights could be transmitted to a receiver located in the tower, and relayed to their main studios downtown. A line of sight is necessary for such relays.

The location seemed satisfactory, according to Dr. Joseph L. Hunter, physics professor, who conducted the inspection. Pending further consideration and final administration approval, such a relay station may be erected on a temporary basis for special programs.

Provided the station is installed, the first program will be the Easter fashion show to be held at Gruber's, Shaker Heights Restaurant, on April 16.

Foreign Policies Topic of New Club

Added to the ever-increasing list of extra-curricular organizations on the campus this month was the International Relations Club, which has as its stated purpose student consideration and discussion of world affairs and particularly the foreign relations of the United States.

Co-chairmen of the new-born group are Joseph J. Lawrence, chairman of the Carroll chapter of the NFCCS International Affairs Commission, and Thomas G. Rhoem. The Rev. Howard A. Kerner, S.J., is faculty advisor.

Although most members are history majors, Joe Lawrence said that all students are invited to attend the meetings which are held every Monday at 3 p.m. in room 166.

Thespians Ready For Annual Play

Capping a full season of activities, the Little Theater Society of Carroll will stage their annual production on April 29 and 30, in the university auditorium. Under the direction of Mr. Vincent Klein, the cast from Notre Dame College and John Carroll University is busily engaged in rehearsing "The Late Christopher Bean," a three-act comedy by Sidney Howard.

Donald Thomas and Marilou Pezmoht captured the leading roles of Dr. Haggett and Abby, a small town doctor and the family maid. Both have had experience in the Lincoln's Day and St. Patrick's Day radio shows put on recently by the Society.

Mary Budd, Frances Nugent, and Robert Rancour, all of whom acted in last year's show, "The Kind Lady," will play supporting roles. Miss Budd plays Mrs. Haggett; Miss Nugent, Ada Haggett; and Bob Rancour, Mr. Tallant. Other cast members will be Rita English, William Mehler, James Morrow and John Sherlock.

In a small town setting, the action follows a search for valuable oil paintings by New York dealers in the home of the Haggett's, left there years before by a struggling artist. The question, "Where are they and who owns them?" presents both laughs and drama until the final curtain.

Tickets will be put on sale soon at the ticket window in the Administration Building lobby. The price of admission has been set at $1 per person.

Cheerleaders Buy Power Megaphone

With an eye toward next year's football season, the Boosters' Club is ordering an electronic-megaphone for the cheerleaders. Fitting over the shoulders of the yell men, cheers will be audible throughout Shaw Stadium.

The McGee Radio Co., Kansas City, Mo., will ship the "phone" in about two weeks at a cost of $35.

Hearns Named First Full-Time Band Director

In the hope of having a "bigger and better" band at John Carroll University, Mr. Jack Hearns has been appointed the first full-time director of the band in the history of the school, the appointment to take effect next September. In accepting the position, Mr. Hearns will terminate 17 years as part-time director at Holy Name high school and six years at Benedictine high school.

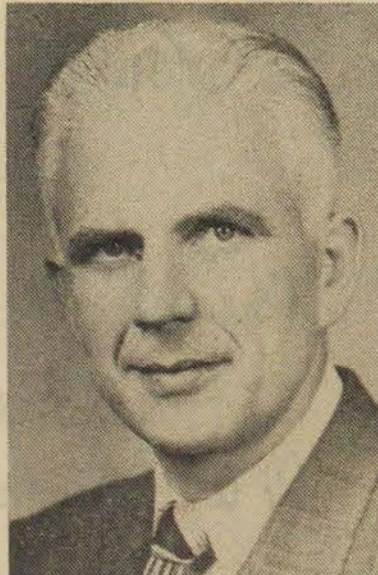

Under the new arrangement, his only other positions will be at Parmadale and St. Ignatius high school where he hopes to encourage future Carroll musicians.

More Practices Planned

One of the first steps to be taken in the planned reorganization of the band will be early registration for band members so that their free periods can be arranged to coincide. At the present time only one rehearsal is held each week. Future plans call for three a week.

"This will be a necessity if Carroll is to be placed on a par with colleges that are noted for their bands, because these schools demand upwards of eight hours of practice per week," stated Mr. Hearns.

Orchestra Is Aim

Mr. Jack Hearns

An orchestra, is the hope of the Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., moderator, and Mr. Hearns, who are calling a meeting next week of all Carroll students who have had musical experience.

Mr. Hearns is married and has one child, a nine-year-old son Jack, Jr. His home on the West Side, Hearns has been part-time director of Carroll for 17 years.

Herb Has Host Of Players; Little Short of Guards

Coach Herb Eisele's face is wreathed in smiles when he watches his present football team go through its paces out on the practice field every afternoon. For the first time since he has been at the head of the Carroll grid machine, Herb is enjoying a wealth of material at every position with the possible exception of the guard slot. He lost Jud Whelan and Mike Magri, two stellar guards, through graduation; and their loss, coupled with the fact that Bill Nowaskey and Al Kowalczyk will not report for practice until their grades pick-up, is going to prove difficult to compensate for.

Dick O'Brien, who was plagued with an injured knee last season, and Ken Koster, who saw little regular action, are going to be counted upon heavily to fill the gap. Last year's freshman squad has produced a pair of fine guards in Mario Alamangno and Ed Sullivan.

Coach Eisele's second task is to create a defensive unit that will be able to fill the capable shoes of the backfield used last season. He will sorely miss the services of Jack Minor and Joe Petkovic, who combined to make it almost impossible for an enemy team to complete a forward pass. Al Bieshada, Sil Cornachione, and possibly Don Faix are the best bets for line backers. Faix isn't out for practice yet, but he is keeping in shape on the Blue and Gold track team.

There have been many people asking me about an article that appeared recently in one of the local papers concerning the position Larry Howland played in the Loyola-Carroll basketball game. It seems that reporter insisted that Larry played guard in the Loyola game. He did a fine job of guarding Jack Kerris, Loyola center, but from the pivot slot.

Jokers yet! I thought the game was ducées wild. It only goes to show that some people do not know the game.

Interest in basketball at Carroll did not die with the conclusion of the present game campaign. Don Kissell played an important role in moving the Sherlock Typewriters to the semi-finals in the Greater Cleveland League. Larry Howland performed well for the Morticians in the same league. Carl Taseff led the Cleveland entry in the Serbian tournament to the quarter-finals before they were ousted by the defending champs.

Captain Bob Hawley, Vic Rosenberger and Ed Sullivan piloted the Wickliffe Tailors to the crown in the East Cleveland Invitational Tournament. Hawley was the high scorer for the team. In the Lakewood B Loop, the Martin Jewelers, who boast Skip Mead, Paul Mayle, Pat Gallagher, Tom Miller, Ed Blake, Ed Carey, Dick Cusik and Terry Richardson as members of the squad, could do not better than eke out fourth place.

Bob Tedesky has made the first team on the All-Ukrainian basketball selections. He was also nominated to the Detroit all-opponent team.

Intramural softball competition which was to be started this week, has been postponed because of wet grounds, according to Athletic Director Gene Oberst. Eight teams are signed for play when the weather permits. All games are scheduled for the noon hour.

Instead of the three diamonds used last year, only two will be available this season. One field is adjacent to the gym and the other is located behind the powerhouse. Gold medals will be given to the winning squad.

Rover Boys Win Tourney

In bringing to a close one of the most successful dorm basketball seasons, the Rover Boys were proclaimed undisputed champions of '49. The Rover Boys were pushed to the wire by the Missing Links. As both these teams were victorious in their semi-final games it was decided that these two play a best out of three series. In the first game the Rover Boys had trouble finding the hoop and the fast-breaking Missing Links eked out a 32-30 victory. In the second game the Rover Boys managed to reverse the decision but again the margin of victory was only two points and the game was not decided till the last basket and been sunk a half second before the final whistle. With the series all tied up and the scores so close it was still anybody's championship but the Rover Boys playing their best game of the year and finally downed the Missing Links 24-19 in a very low-scoring game which was dominated by defense all the way.

The following men will receive medals in token of playing on the Rover Boys championship team: Tom Hunter, Jerry Fenton, Jack F. Reilly, Joseph Dwyer, Bob Ga-talder, Jim Harrington, and Dale Harms.

Tom Hunter of the Rover Boys has been proclaimed high scorer of the dorm league. Tom has racked up 116 points in the regular season and the tournament. With his height around the back-board Tom was one of the main reasons that the Rover Boys had a successful season.

Reserves Brighten Grid Picture

Eisele Optimistic Over New Material

By BILL STREDELMAN

Donning their moleskins after a short four-month lay-off, John Carroll's battling Blue Streaks charged onto the practice field last week with a fervor that brought smiles to the faces of Coach Herb Eisele and his assistants, and the usually pessimistic mentor was forced to admit that "things look a lot better this year."

The big reason for the brighter picture this year is the greater reserve strength the Streaks will possess next season. Not only does Eisele have a whole host of returning lettermen to form a nucleus for this year's squad; but in addition a group of freshmen has moved up to the varsity ranks, and from all appearances they intend to stay there.

Expects 40 in Uniform

Last year Coach Eisele had only 29 men in uniform, but after injuries had taken their toll the squad was greatly weakened. The coach had to manage with what he had, and all too frequently this was not enough when the chips were down. This season, though, he expects to have a squad of 40 in uniform, and this number should insure an adequate replacement list in case of injuries. The larger squad will also allow Coach Eisele to employ a two-team system, which will undoubtedly bolster Carroll's attack.

Carl Taseff is expected to carry the weight offensively again this year, and with a greater number of capable backs to relieve him, the "Little King" should turn in an even better record this season.

Also in the way of experienced ball-carriers, Lenny Soeder and Don Shula are returning to action. Shula was an offensive standout last season until he was injured in midseason, while Soeder saw action mostly as a line-backer. Shields Shifted to Backfield

The outstanding new back is Burrell Shields, who was switched from the end position after Coach Eisele caught a glimpse of the speedster in action in the Frosh games last season. Shields, who stands 6'2" and weighs in at 195 pounds, is the fastest man on the squad. He is not only a strong runner but is also an excellent pass receiver and will undoubtedly be a powerful addition to the offensive attack.

Although Bob Kilfoyle and Rudy Schaffer are the logical nominations for the signal-calling post, they are being pushed hard by Bob Harsarik, a former Cathedral Latin Lion. Harsarik, a south-paw, tossed four touchdown passes for the freshmen edition of the Blue and Gold last season.

Present backfield combinations have Kilfoyle, Soeder, Shula, and Taseff working together as one unit, and Schaffer, Shields, Cornachione, and Bill Mower in the other. Cornachione will probably be used exclusively as a line-backer, while Mower, a freshman candidate from Euclid Central, is a

Golfers Open On April 19

Carroll's linksters, coached by the Rev. Hugh Rodman, S. J., will open their 1949 schedule with Baldwin-Wallace College on April 19 at Highland golf course. The 12-game schedule will put back into action three Streak golfers who are returnees from last year.

Fifteen members have reported to Father Rodman thus far to compete for berths on the golf squad. The list is headed by veterans Joe Popovitch, Dick Kleshinski, and Bob Revello. These three will be supported by newcomers Ray Masek, Gene Fratianni, Jerry Intorcio, Ray Augustine, Paul Stack, Bob Majewski, Jack Kirchner, Nick Capello, Jim P. Sweeney Allan Cavanaugh, Norm Yraniam, and John Danicic.

Hitting below the five hundred percentage mark last year, the golfers will be out to better last year's record of five-wins-and-six-losses. The '48 squad defeated B-W twice, Hiram, Case, and Oberlin once. The Blue and Gold were topped by Toledo in two matches, Akron, Youngstown, Oberlin, and Gannon.

Pi Delta Epsilon To Give Awards For Top Athletes

Additional honors will be forthcoming to Carroll's athletes with the initiation of an Outstanding Varsity Player Award to be given by the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon to the member of each athletic squad who is nominated by his teammates as the athlete who contributed most to the success of the team. Tommy Nolan, Don Kenney and Carl Taseff will be the first athletes to receive the award.

Members of the Carroll chapter of the nation's oldest collegiate honorary journalism fraternity decided to present the award when recent suggestions for the establishment of an annual "outstanding player" trophy was vetoed by the Carroll Union.

The award is a parchment scroll, emblazoned with the University Seal, and with appropriate spaces for entering the player's name, the sport in which he participated and the year for which the award is given. Each scroll will be signed by the President of the University, the Athletic Director, the head coach of the sport, and the president of Pi Delta Epsilon.

Each year the award will be given to that player who, in the opinion of his teammates, has displayed the most ability, sportsmanship and inspiring attitude. A poll is taken among the members of each team now, by the Publicity department, and the results of that balloting will serve as the determining factor. (Continued on Page 4)

Ugh!!

Michigan Scores in All Boxing Matches; Down Streaks 7-1

By JERRY MILLER

Michigan State's talent-studded boxing squad refused to take April Fools' Day seriously last Friday at Lansing as they trimmed the Blue Streaks 7-1 before a packed arena of 3,500 slug fans. Living up to advance notice, the powerful Spartan squad won six matches while drawing two. Ernie Charboneau started things off for Michigan

State by decisioning Sam Degatono in the 125-pound class. Sammy pressed the N.C.A.A. 118-pound champion all the way in one of the best bouts of the evening.

In the 130-pound class, Ted Puskar drew with Henry Ames when he injured his shoulder in the first round. The Spartans then clinched the victory by taking the next five matches.

Davey TKO's Kenny

John Brady was dropped in the second round by Pat Dougherty who gained the decision in the 135-pound class. Chuck Davey, the Spartan's other N.C.A.A. champion, who is undefeated during his collegiate career, received credit in the 145-pound division when Carroll failed to show an opponent.

Davey then moved up to the 155-pound class to meet Don Kenny, also previously undefeated in the college ranks, in what was eagerly anticipated to be the battle of the evening. Both fighters attacked with ferocious intent, but it was Davey's superior experience and class which finally decided the outcome. Late in the second round, Kenny failed to "weather the storm," and Davey pounded out a technical kayo.

Conti Battles to Draw

The Spartans then increased their lead to 6 1/2-1/2 by two successive technical kayos both of which came in the second rounds. Bill Dineen took a merciless pounding at the hands of Jim Gemwell in the 165-pound division and John Buckon also gave way to a superior opponent, the flashy and hard-hitting Gabby Marek, in the 175-pound class. Buckon and Marek, who was originally slated to fight as a heavyweight, fought a hard battle that thrilled the crowd.

In the battle of the giants, Roman Conti hammered and hit Michigan heavyweight Art Hughlett with all the punches in his repertoire but could not "deck" his game but outclassed opponent and had to be satisfied with a draw. This fight was also a great crowd pleaser though the crowd booed at the decision, favoring Conti.

Carroll Hosts NSA Executives

The National Executive Committee of the National Student Association held its convention April 1, 2, and 3, at Cleveland College of Western Reserve University. Host at the gathering of more than 40 delegates was Carroll representative Jim FitzGerald, regional chairman of student government and Ohio representative of NSA.

At the meetings, which lasted from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily, the group named August 24-September 2 as the date for NSA's national convention at the University of Illinois. Also discussed were European student travel bureaus, symphony forums, and purchase card systems for student discounts.

On the Carroll campus Bill Mack was appointed by the student union to succeed John Callahan as the University's delegate to NSA for the school year 1949-50.

Scientific Academy Banquets at Brown's

The Scientific Academy will banquet on Wednesday night, April 27 at Brown's Cottage, according to an announcement made yesterday by the executive committee. Bronze keys will be awarded at the dinner to all members of junior class rating or above who have been in the organization for at least one semester.

blocking back. Three Tackles Return Eisele has three tackles returning this year in addition to a great deal of material moving up from the freshman team. Alex Aurilio, Sig Holowenko, and Bill McKeon are the returning vets, but they will not be able to rest on their laurels, for Dick Dierker, Vince Tattia, Bob Grendering, and Gregg McDonnell are fighting hard for starting berths.

In the guard slots, Lettermen Ken Koster and Bill Nowaskey are returning for another campaign, and despite the loss of Jud Whelan and Mike Magri, this position should be as strong as before. Four freshmen are contenders for these posts, and each one is capable of taking over a regular assignment. The freshmen candidates are Mario Alamango, Al Bieshada, Joe Kopilchak, and Ed Sullivan. Bieshada is being groomed for Whelan's position as line-backer, and the big boy looks as though he were made for that spot.

Eline Back at Center Bill Eline, with two years of experience under his belt, will probably get the nod as a starting center. Chief reinforcements are Ray Ogrinc, returning from the 1948 squad, and George French, a 205-pound freshman from Detroit. The squad should be much stronger at the ends with Lettermen Joe Minor, Ed Kubancik, Nes Janiak, Bob Zupke, and Roman Conti returning. They are being challenged by Freshmen Tom Behm from Cathedral Latin and Pat Murphy from Columbus.

College Men Lack Job Information

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Michael J. Vacarro is Director of the Placement Service. A Carroll graduate of '39, Mr. Vacarro has been prominent in the field of job placement since the inception of the Placement Service in 1944.

By MR. MICHAEL J. VACARRO

In daily conversation with college trained men, graduates and non-graduates alike, there appears to be one factor they all have in common: almost without exception, they lack not only the information necessary to relate their college work to beginning jobs in the business and industrial world, but also the initiative to go out and get it. Most students are aware of their objective, the kind of work they want to be doing in 10 or 15 years, but they have very little idea of the beginning jobs that mark the starting points to these ends.

Let's take the following example: Probably the most highly structured training in the BEG school is the comprehensive major in accounting. While they are thoroughly trained in accounting techniques, many graduates fail to recognize the positions of Cost Clerk, Payroll tion is even more apparent. It is certainly true that a Liberal Arts education is an asset to any young man who is capable of absorbing it. On the other hand, the Liberal Arts education is not designed as a vocational education—a fact many college students cannot or will not recognize—but rather as pre-professional or pre-vocational education. Observe that the pre-medical students spend four or six additional years in the beginning job of medical student or intern. In the same manner, it is not unreasonable that other college trained young men should anticipate the necessity of getting started at the bottom in a suitable entry position.

It appears logical that each student should devote considerable time and effort acquainting himself with jobs relating to his choice of college courses. John Carroll, the University Vocational Service with its expert staff and its file of vocational and occupational information, offers every student an opportunity to approach realistically the problem of entry occupations.

Ruble Seeks Trainees

Mr. Wade Ruble, manager of employment, B. F. Goodrich Co., will interview men interested in applying for that company's training program for the field of production management. Those interested in talking with Mr. Ruble should apply to the Placement Office before April 22 for an interview time.

"Christ the King," a film version of the passion and death of Christ, will be presented by the Foreign Student Relief Commission of the NFCCS, this Saturday, at 2:30 and 8:00 p.m. in the Carroll Auditorium.

Jim Haggerty, commission chairman, is relying on the film receipts to bolster this year's campaign for student relief. Admission price for adults is 75 cents and 50 cents for children.

Lynch Discloses Plans

Commerce Club President Pat Lynch has announced three events planned for the club within the next six weeks. The first will be a downtown meeting held on April 29 at the Allerton Hotel.

On May 11, the annual dinner will be at the Hollenden Hotel with an as yet un-named speaker. The Towne Club has been chosen as the site of the Commerce Club's "Farewell Dance" on May 25.

unnecessary, however, since the point containing the word "officer" had not been approved before.

Sennett then moved that the officer requirement be struck out since he felt many deserving men would be excluded by it. John Sullivan observed that officership in some clubs meant little since they seldom had enough men at their meetings to hold a good crap game.

The motion was upheld, and then all the other points, considered at the previous meeting were discussed and voted on. The report was approved.

Following this tempest, the chair recognized John Sullivan. John rose to ask that some question be made to the administration regarding a card requesting license number registration that was mailed to students recently.

A committee was formed, the bell rang. Meeting was adjourned.
