Chapel construction stalled

by Brian Cassidy, Forum Editor

Due to unreasonable cost estimates for its design, construction of the St. Francis Xavier chapel will be postponed indefinitely.

According to Fr. Peter J. Fennessy, Vice President for Religious Affairs, bids for the original design were too high, one of them a full million dollars over-budget.

"The bids that came back were absolutely unexpected.

We thought they might be over-budget, but not this far over," said Fennessy. "You really should be able to build a decent chapel for a million dollars."

As a result, the chapel is still in the design phase. How the front of the chapel will look is still undecided, but the present building will not be demolished.

The chapel was originally scheduled to be completed by April 1, 1987 with a gift of one million dollars from Mrs. F.J. O'Neill and the F.J. O'Neill Charitable Corporation made in August, 1985.

When construction is completed, the chapel will house the Campus Ministry offices. These offices are currently located on the second floor of the Administration Building across from the Business Office.

SU finances sound

by Neil E. Koreman

The Student Union will begin this year with $74,000 in its treasury. Says Student Union President Dave Clifford "The Student Union is in the best financial shape it's ever been in."

Boosting the Union's finances this fall was a record Discount Card sale. Over $33,000 were generated as of date, far exceeding last year's total of $24,000. Increased prices and greater participation of upper classmen in this year's sale were credited for the record increase.

According to SU Treasurer Kevin Randall, the past administration left $20,000 in the treasury. Randall also commented that not all of the money from the Discount Card sales is immediately accessible because some students charged them to their accounts.

The money will be used by the SU "to offer as much as we can for the students," according to Vice President John Grazia.

Plans include increased Discount Card savings and a possible concert in the Spring. "We're open to suggestions," says Grazia.

Marchers enter Cleveland

by Liz Murphy,
Entertainment Editor

The Great Peace March, a group of approximately 650 pro-peace activists from across the country, will march into Cleveland on September 12 in a segment of their cross-country walk for global disarmament. The march started in Los Angeles and will end in Washington, D.C.

Matt Shannon, a New York resident and marcher says, "We are hoping for a mass influx of supporters to join us the day we walk into Washington."

The group is expected to reach the nation's capital by mid-November. "Once we're there," noted Shannon, "we hope to establish an ongoing presence and are planning a number of activities to encourage support for our cause."

The Great Peace March has already generated tremendous local interest in the cities it has visited on its 3300 mile hike. Clevelanders will have a unique opportunity to welcome the marchers, 25 of whom are from the Cleveland area, when the group joins forces with the FreezeWalk organization, a Cleveland based pro-peace group.

On September 13, both groups will participate in a four mile walk from Trinity Cathedral at E. 22 and Euclid Avenue to the Great Peace March's "tent-city" camp at Edgewater Park.

March organizer Mark Nairne will be interviewed on WUJC, 88.7 FM on Saturday, September 13 at 1:30 p.m.

Welcome back week considered success

by Neil E. Koreman

This year's Welcome Back Week was called a "tremendous success" by Student Union President Dave Clifford at the Sept. 9 Student Union meeting.

Events held last week included a performance by professional comedians in Kulas Auditorium, a specials night at the Rascal House for Carroll students, a concert by Fayrewether in Kulas, pictured at right, an outdoor performance by John Solomon, and culminated in a Saturday night mixer in the cafeteria attended by over 750 students.

The Student Union Finance Committee allocated $3,900 for the week's festivities. This was supplemented by donations from both the Dean of Student's office and the Housing Office.

Over all, events ran smoothly as record numbers of students participated. More than 600 students attended the comedy show in Kulas on Tuesday night, and 350 made their way to the Rascal House. Over 500 students attended the Fayrewether concert Thursday night.

One of the problems which arose during the week was the excessive amount of trash left outside the Atrium by students attending the John Solomon concert. An estimated seven bags of garbage were collected after the show.

Fayrewether plays to a crowd of over 500 students who attended their Kulas concert last Thursday. The band was brought in to help celebrate Welcome Back Week.

The Carroll News
will now be published on THURSDAYS
to better serve its readers.

Use the News

After the beginning of a new year, The Carroll News swings into publication a week late. The reasons for this are many, but a few stand out in particular.

Like all other student organizations, the newspaper depends upon the student body for its vitality. It is directly the responsibility of the Carroll student to make sure his or her freedom of speech is not curtailed by the lack of a student paper. But without greater student involvement, this may be the case.

Even though this is a student newspaper, it is dedicated to serving the Carroll community. This demands further the participation of faculty, staff and alumni in the reporting and dissemination of news.

More important though is the feedback the paper gets from the community. This is the only way to gauge its effectiveness, to insure students the right of expression, and to produce a quality publication. Be it written or verbal, The Carroll News cannot operate without the involvement and dedication of its readers.

It is a sad fact that unless the student body acts to build their newspaper, it will never go anywhere. What can the individual do? They can contribute actively to the paper by letting its office know what is going on, what they think of events on and off campus, and finally, what they want to see changed.

Above all, the office needs personnel. Writers, editors, artists, photographers, typists, proofreaders, and business personnel are all needed to make this publication possible. If there is no staff dedicated to its publication, there can be no paper.

What to do?

All over campus, student organizations are calling for new members to swell their ranks as the professors challenge the Students with assignments heavy enough to sink the QE II. The pendulum between academics and activities is set in motion with the start of a new semester, and the student is confronted with the dilemma of staying in and studying or becoming involved in his or her environment.

Happily though, a balance can be achieved. Especially at a school as ripe with opportunities as John Carroll.

Take for instance the campus radio station, run by the student body. Students interested in joining its staff are encouraged to attend a general meeting Monday Sept. 15, at 5:00 p.m. in room C-168 of the Business Wing.

And then there is the Student Union, a massive organization which does everything from mixers to movies. If this appeals to you, attend the meetings held every Tuesday night at 5:15 in the Jardine Room. Even if it doesn't, go and find out what's happening anyway.

Early fall is the season of smokers. Just about every Greek organization on campus will be having one in the near future, so keep your eyes open.

In addition, the university has a debate team, a choral, athletic teams and clubs, and a myriad of other activities for the students. Take the time to find out about them.

College is more than an education. It is a time and a place to grow and learn from experience. Don't let your college career pass by unnoticed. Take an active part in it, and you will reap untold benefits.

Letters to the Editor

Paper Problems

Dear Sir,

The campus has a problem. You, I, and the entire student body share this problem. Indeed, this letter is the problem.

You see, I have this friend and he functions as the commander-in-chief of a small yet faithful college newspaper. He spends energy and time asking people to submit material to this paper. Ninety percent of the universe says, "Yeah, sure! I'll write an article." But come release time, my friend is still scrambling for news articles and filler material.

And that is why you have a problem. You read the filler and you say, "This paper sucks." If this is true, then you can take the blame.

Nothing more and nothing less than
Christopher Michael Strauch

Carroll News letter policy

Little Theatre to hold Auditions

by Liz Murphy,
Entertainment Editor

Auditions for the John Carroll Little Theatre Society's production of "Inherit the Wind" will be held tonight in Kulas Auditorium from 7-10 p.m.

"Inherit the Wind," a drama by Jerome

Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, is based on the famous Scopes-Monkey trial in which a Tennessee school teacher was tried for teaching Darwin's theory of evolution. "The debate between evolutionism and creationism is very much alive today in the Senate," said Bill Kennedy of JCU's Communication Department and director of the play. "But the main issue is basic freedom of thought and expression." The play is being presented by the Communications Department as a part of the Centennial celebration. In addition, two other special attractions will highlight this year's production. The first of these is the appearance of Jack Riley in a leading role. Riley, a native Clevelander and JCU graduate, is an accomplished actor/comedian of stage, screen and television. He is probably best remembered for his six year role as Mr. Carlin, the insecure patient on the "Bob Newhart Show." He has since appeared in such prime time shows as "Family Ties," "Night Court," and "Mash." Currently, he can be seen in Medic Discount Drug Store ads.

The second attraction of "Inherit the Wind" is the fact that it will be the first Little Theatre production to be staged in Kulas Auditorium in over fifteen years.

Says Kennedy, "It's good for students to have the opportunity to work with a professional and the play will offer a number of good roles to the students."

The show involves a large cast and crew, and students are urged to try-out for the play or to sign up for the various crews even if they have not had any previous theatrical experience.

QUESTION #1.

WHAT IS THE RIGHT CHOICE FOR MOST COLLEGE STUDENTS?

- a) AT&T—for everyday discounts of 40% to over 50% off weekday rates on out-of-state calls.
- b) Short bursts of intense study followed by hours of frantic partying.
- c) AT&T—for exceptional value and high quality service.
- d) AT&T—for collect, third-party and operator-assisted long distance calls.
- e) Any class that does not conflict with "The Love Connection!"

If you picked A, C and D, you're destined for great things. Like AT&T Long Distance Service. AT&T offers so many terrific values. Like a 40% to over 50% discount off our day rate on night, evening, and weekend out-of-state calls.

Imagine what you'll do with the money you could save. Imagine what your parents would do if they found out.

Of course, you can count on AT&T for clear long distance connections any place you call. And AT&T gives you immediate credit for wrong numbers.

To find out more about why you should choose AT&T, give us a call. And if you picked B and E, call anyway. You could probably use someone to talk to.

Call toll-free today, at 1 800 222-0300.

Gridder lose season opener, 28-17

by Dan Weaver

The Blue Streak Gridders opened their season this Saturday with a 28-17 home field loss to the Duquesne Dukes.

Although the Streaks led 10-7 at the half, Duquesne Sophomore Sean McDonough proved to be too much with 233 yards on 28 carries as the Duke's running back.

John Carroll took the lead with a 31-yard field goal by Senior Dan Shannon 9:16 into the first quarter. The Carroll defense held the Duke's score less throughout the first quarter.

But in the second quarter, the Streaks fumbled on their own 11-yard line. Three plays later, the Dukes crossed the home goal line with a three yard run by fullback Tom Celedonia.

A 51-yard pass completion from Carroll quarterback Don Stupica to tightened Tim Mahota put the Streaks deep into Duke territory. A failed running play on an important 4th down inside the Duke's ten yard line prompted a dissatisfied Head Coach Frank Amato to say, "In the same situation last week against Capital, we used the same play and scored easily."

Late in the second quarter, the Streaks scored again with only 1:30 left to play. Wide receiver Craig Demarco switched to flanker and carried the ball 14 yards for a John Carroll touchdown.

The Streaks started slipping in the second half, and a fumble on JCU's 26-yard line allowed the Duke's McDonough to score a touchdown

2:34 into the third.

With the score 14-10 against them, the Streaks came back at 5:03 in the third with yet another touchdown, taking the lead at 17-14. McDonough ended the quarter with a 21 yard reception, giving the lead back to Duquesne.

The Dukes scored again in the fourth quarter on a 7-yard pass, increasing the score to the final 28-17.

Jim Laver, Blue Streak co-Captain, missed the game because of an injured ankle. Both he and Amato were pleased with the team's performance and look forward to this Saturday's game at Baldwin Wallace.

The Student Union is sponsoring busses to the 7:30 game at BW. Contact Sandy Ripepi for more details.

JCU names Athletic Director

by Joe Raynak

John Carroll's head wrestling coach, Tony DeCarlo, has been named the university's new Athletic Director. DeCarlo replaces Dr. Jerry Schweickert, who resigned the position because of an overabundance of responsibilities in the Athletic Department.

Tony DeCarlo

Schweickert will retain his position as Head of the Athletic Department and Head Baseball Coach.

DeCarlo, 46, first came to John Carroll as an assistant football coach in 1964. That same year, he became the first and only Head Coach of the school's newly formed wrestling team. His 22 years as wrestling coach have built a dynasty, crediting him with 20 consecutive PAC championships and 11 National Catholic Invitational Tournament crowns.

In 1975, DeCarlo led JCU to a NCAA Division III National Championship. Since then, the Blue Streak wrestlers have remained among the top teams in the country, never finishing lower than 12th. The team has finished 4th in Division III five out of their last six seasons.

DeCarlo was named NCAA Coach of the Year in 1974, and NCIT Coach of the Year in 1973, 1974 and 1979. In 1976, he was inducted into John Carroll's Hall of Fame, and four years later was inducted into the Ohio Wrestling Hall of Fame. DeCarlo was awarded a Centennial Medal by the university last year for his work with the wrestling team.

DeCarlo hopes to improve a program which has brought the All-sports Trophy home to JCU for the past 4 years. The trophy is awarded annually by the PAC, and symbolizes the dominance of the winner's men's athletic teams in that league.

When asked about his new job, DeCarlo said "It has been a busy three weeks. I've had a ton of things to do, including making new contacts along with the department and wrestling."

DeCarlo also said that his main goal as Athletic Director is to make the Athletic Department a "First-class department which serves the university and its students." He said that the students would be a major consideration in any decision he makes.

Booters open victorious

by Tom Maggio

After suffering through a disappointing 6-7-2 season last year, the John Carroll Men's Soccer Team hopes last night's 2-1 victory over Mt. Union will set the pace for this season.

Against host Mt. Union, the Streaks surrendered an early goal and trailed 1-0 at half-time. In the opening minutes of the second half Rick Costello, a transfer from Ohio Wesleyan, redirected a mis-played ball into the Mt. Union net to tie the score. Lew Holubec gave the booters the victory when he tallied with just ten minutes remaining in the match.

The Blue Streaks, under the direction of seventh year coach Tim Baab, will have one of their most difficult schedules yet. In addition to Division III powerhouse Bethany College, currently ranked tenth in the nation, the Blue Streak Booters will face traditionally tough Dennison College and Division I Xavier. The Streaks will also have to play eleven of their sixteen games on the road.

This Fall's team will also take on a different appearance. Four year performers Drue Carney, Rich Kramer, Tony Szczesiul, and Steve Payne have all graduated, forcing the team to start a number of Freshmen. Senior Captain and goalkeeper Paul Rossman, believes that the Streaks will "surprise some people." Rossman also added that "there is better team spirit this year and we are much closer. I don't see us losing many games."

Returning this season are all-PAC players Lew Holubec and Tony Turchi, as well as Captains Domenic Vitale and Neal Mowchan. The teams should also be strengthened by a group of very talented Freshmen.

Saturday, the Blue Streaks will host Penn State-Behrend at 1:00 at Bracken Field.
