ROTC receives blood award

by Lisa Spanuello

The John Carroll Reserve Officers' Training Corps was honored by the American Red Cross last Friday for its work in blood drives. The ROTC has been involved with the drives since 1959, and has an outstanding total of 13,074 pints collected.

Ellen Acherman, of the Donor Resource Department in Cleveland, presented the certificate to the ROTC. Says Acherman, "It's good that we can present this honor to the school this year, since it is the Centennial year. The Red Cross is celebrating its 35th anniversary this year, so two are celebrating together."

The Red Cross, which must collect 900 pints of blood per day, depends on drives sponsored by universities such as John Carroll. Drives are organized on campus by the Association of the United States Army, (AUSA) with the assistance of the ROTC.

Commander Maria Evans, of the AUSA, explained that the blood drives are the university service project of the AUSA. States Evans, "We promote the drive here on campus. Most of the donations come from the students. We're trying now to get the faculty more involved, but it's been difficult because most of the faculty is across campus in the Administration Building."

In the past, the blood drives have been held in the Jardine Room. This fall, however, the drive will be moved to the Murphy Room in the Student Center. The concern of the Red Cross and the AUSA alike is that fewer students will donate due to the inconvenience of this location. The blood drive will be held on September 24 and 25, from 12:30 to 6:30.

In order to achieve the minimum yearly requisite of 200,000 pints needed by the Northern Ohio area, Acherman encourages John Carroll students and faculty alike to "Give blood and save lives."

Student life examined

by Nick Berente

University President Rev. T.P. O'Malley, S.J., has commissioned a committee to review student life at John Carroll. Officially called the Student Life Project Committee (SLPC), it will systematically review each extra-curricular activity and implement changes to better the conditions of the activity for both resident and commuting students.

The committee is headed by W.D. Bookwalter, Vice President. It includes ten prominent members of the JCU community, such as Prof. Duane Dukes of the Sociology Dept., and Mr. John Wasmer of the Board of Trustees. It will also include a number of students nominated by the Student Union. The SLPC will meet twice monthly, and O'Malley plans on convening this committee for the next two years.

The committee will look into every non-academic activity at John Carroll, including athletics, intramurals, resident life, and other extra-curriculars such as the band and the newspaper. Bookwalter said that the purpose of this committee is to "substantially improve the quality of all of the student activities." He wants the "best program in the whole country."

The SLPC's first organizational meeting was held on September 2, and focused on the dorms. Committee members started looking at housing assignments and the assistant residents. The committee also took a general overview of JCU's athletic program, including the question of whether John Carroll should remain in the PAC.

O'Malley summed up the committee in the notes from his desk: "I hope that this committee, composed of faculty, students and administrators, can make recommendations during the course of their studies, and that these recommendations can, largely, be implemented."

Ministry boasts new faces

by Brian Cassidy,
Forum Editor

JCU's Campus Ministry has welcomed two members to its staff this semester.

Julie Pelling, who has a BA in Music Education and an MM (Master of Music) in Vocal Performance, will be in charge of liturgy, which includes music and lectors for masses. Pelling has some teaching experience and has done volunteer work.

"I love it here," Pelling said of the Carroll environment. "The people are so friendly."

Anyone interested in being a lector or helping with music should contact Pelling at the Campus Ministry Center.

Another newcomer, Sr. Mary Noel, O.P., holds a BS and an MS in Education plus an MA in Theology. She will be in charge of the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA).

An open invitation to participate in the RCIA has been extended to the faculty, staff, and students at John Carroll. There will also be an inquiry group for people who are interested but do not wish to join. Sponsors are needed for all non-Catholic participants in the RCIA.

Retreats and reflective evenings at the Carrollodge may also be planned for any type of group. A retreat especially for Freshmen has already been scheduled for this weekend. It will start tomorrow evening and will go to Saturday night.

Inquiries concerning the RCIA or retreats should be directed to Sr. Mary at 397-4260 or 397-4709, or to the Campus Ministry Center.

WUJC seeks 'New Dimension' sponsors

by Neil E. Koreman

The campus radio station, WUJC 88.7 fm, is looking for sponsors to fund their enormously successful "New Dimensions" interview series.

Until recently, the syndicate show from California was sponsored by The Rainbow Connection, a holistic bookstore in South Euclid. "However, the store is no longer able to fund the $130 charger per semester, and the station is seeking outside funding.

According to Operations Director Pat Artl, over 3,000 people listened to the weekly show, now aired at 9:00 p.m.

Tuesdays. "Whereas the evening news tells what's going on in the outer world," says Artl, "New Dimensions" tells what's going on in the inner world."

The series focuses on the leading edge of science, philosophy, and the arts. Previous guests on the show have included the late J. Krishna Murti, Ram Daas, Joseph Campbell, Marilyn Ferguson, Alan Arkin, and former Oberlin College President Robert Fuller.

The station's drive for sponsors is being led by Dr. Rosemary Snow, formerly of the Fine Arts Department at John Carroll. According to Snow, the station is looking for individual sponsors to make contributions. Snow says "Any contribution, even one or two dollars, will be most welcome, and will help ensure that we can continue presenting this excellent program to its many listeners."

Anyone interested in contributing to "New Dimensions" can do so by making checks payable to New Dimensions c/o Rosemary Snow, and send them to WUJC, John Carroll University, University Heights, Ohio, 44118.

Attention Seniors ...

If you plan to graduate this May, your graduation application must be filed by the end of this month. Applications may be picked up in the Dean of Arts and Sciences office. A $50.00 graduation fee must also be included.

Students' life

The formation of the Student Life Committee (see article p. 1) marks a milestone in this university's history. The administration has taken the first steps in bringing about long overdue changes for the betterment of the Carroll community. While The Carroll News welcomes this new attempt to analyze the university's ills, it is also wary of the committee designed to do so.

In the first place, one must question whether the committee will truly represent the student body. Or will decisions be reached by a handful of favorites selected by the administration? The committee should consider this point seriously and choose its student members with the consent of the student body.

Secondly, what decisions will the committee reach, and what redress will the student body have if they prove undesirable? How will the students be informed of the committee's decisions? It is entirely possible that this committee will become an autonomous policy-making body, with a blank check to make changes in any student organization. This is obviously unfair to the members of such organizations, and the students should demand an answer to this problem before the committee begins its review.

And finally, where will the funding for suggested changes come? Necessary equipment for student offices will cost money, as will changes drastically needed in the parking lot. Hopefully this attempt to improve student life will not hamper it with yet another tuition hike.

The committee is formed for the student body, and it is the obligation of the students to entreat solutions to these problems. The changes which may result from the committee's analysis could be major. Before they are implemented, the students must be assured they were made with their best interests in mind.

Probably the only organization on campus that actually serves a unique function is student-run WUJC, 88.7 fm. Like most college stations, WUJC is dedicated to serving the general public with alternative programming.

Even so, many students do not like weird music from a band they never heard before. Thus, the station is listened to by the public and not by the students.

This is not to say that what the students listen to degrades their intelligence, but rather that an infinite spectrum of sound is presented through the programming of the campus station.

It is not the loss of the station to be without a campus following. This is solely the loss of those who choose to ignore what WUJC has to offer. It is a valuable commodity for the university, a training center in communications and a vital outlet for the students' musical expressions.

The world of music is one that should be explored, and WUJC serves as a guide through the world of alternative programming. Give college radio a try. Cleveland has a lucky abundance of such stations down at the left end of the dial, starting just past your favorite and mine, 92Q.

It is a shame that such an outlet for creativity is not enjoyed by more of the student body. The station seems at times no more than a showcase in the Recplex. Make it yours, and you'll be surprised with what you hear. Tune into the left end, 88.7 fm.

Letters to the Editor

March Support

Dear Sir,

I would like to commend The Carroll News for its article on the Great Peace March. It is good to know that a campus newspaper is taking an active interest in world problems and issues.

I was able to personally meet and talk with several of the marchers, and they were also pleased to see that their efforts were being publicized.

Should anyone here on campus wish to send donations or letters of support, the address of the Washington, D.C. office is:

The Great Peace March

Washington, D.C. 20005

Yours in Peace,

Parking Woes

Dear Sir,

I am writing in reference to the parking problem on the John Carroll campus. Once again, finding a parking space is next to impossible.

This situation has gone on far too long. Can't the resident students park in a different location? Can't more parking spaces be provided?

The university must find a solution and soon. The commuters will not be able to put up with this situation for much longer.

Sincerely,
Susan Csendes

The Carroll News is still in dire need of personnel to round out its staff.

If you have a burning desire to write, take pictures, or even if you just want to help, stop in at the CN office, located on the second level of the Recplex.

Remember, this is your newspaper. Please help us to continue serving the Carroll community.

RCIA groups give 'spiritual kick'

by Lisa Spanuello

I am pleased to learn that the Campus Ministry Department is now offering the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults, more commonly known as the RCIA. Having observed the program's accomplishments for many years in my home parish, I am convinced of its worth in the Catholic environment. Also, as a Catholic by birth and by choice, I find that the people who complete the RCIA often provide a spiritual kick for me.

The program itself enables non-Catholics and Catholics not yet confirmed to enter the Catholic tradition in a warm and personal atmosphere. A Catholic sponsor, who is friend, confidant, and teacher, accompanies the initiate every step of the way, aiding him or her in the many problems and struggles that arise from finding one's true self.

At John Carroll, students, faculty, and staff are urged to join the program. Sr. Mary Noel, a new member of the Campus Ministry staff, heads the program. She is more than eager to answer any questions. There is no obligation to complete the training if at any time the program loses its appeal. Sr. Mary stresses the fact that people joining the RCIA program often find their own faiths strengthened by the soul searching that the RCIA encourages.

I found that one of the hardest problems to overcome in the program is making the first move. If you go and discover you do not want to convert after all, you have the option of not doing so. Nevertheless, if you really want to become Catholic, then the RCIA here at John Carroll is one of the best ways to do it.

There are many opportunities to get involved in the RCIA even if you are already Catholic. For instance, the program is in need of sponsors. My advice to any one interested in helping would be to call Sr. Mary at the Campus Ministry office.

Again, I would like to add my opinion based on years of observation. The RCIA has provided a chance for me to see my faith from the viewpoint of one who is choosing to become a member of the Catholic community, as well as given me the opportunity to make some wonderful new friends.

Streaks lose to BW, 35-13

by Tim Kernan

In their first away game of the season, the JCU Gridders were downed by cross-town opponent Baldwin-Wallace, 35-13.

Early in the first quarter, the Streaks were intercepted on their own 39 yard line. Two plays later, Yellow Jacket Craig Mears carried the ball over the goal line for B-W's first touchdown.

On their second possession, JCU was forced to punt. Four plays later B-W scored again on a 2 yard run. The kick was no good and the score stood at 13-0 in favor of the Yellow Jackets.

B-W went on to score another T.D. in the first quarter, pushing the score to 20-0 against JCU.

The second quarter started off no better than the first for John Carroll. After only 4:30 of play, the Yellow Jackets' Wade Massad tacked on a 39 yard field goal.

However, on the ensuing kick-off, JCU's Craig DeMarco had a 55 yard return to give the Streaks excellent field position at B-W's 40 yard line. Six plays later, with 2nd and 10 on B-W's 17, Carroll quarterback Don Stupica combined with Greg Debieljak for a touchdown pass giving the Streaks their first score of the game. Senior Dan Shannon added the extra point to make the score 23-7.

Later in the second quarter, B-W scored other touchdown on a 25 yd. pass from quarterback Ed Graham to split-end Dan Reinhart. The extra point was blocked and the score at the end of the half was 29-7 in favor of B-W.

Throughout the third quarter, B-W held the Streaks scoreless while adding on yet another touchdown with a 1 yard run by Yellow Jacket Erik Young. However, B-W's Massad missed the extra point. The score stood at 35-7 going into the fourth quarter.

The Streaks managed to score again at 8:15 in the fourth quarter when quarterback Chris Stablein hit DeMarco with a 3-yard touchdown pass. That ended the scoring for the game with the final, Baldwin-Wallace 35, John Carroll 13.

John Carroll is idle this week, but will play Thiel on September 27 at 1:30 p.m. at Thiel's Stewart Field.

Booters are undefeated, 2-0-1

by Tom Maggio

After its first three games, the John Carroll soccer team remains undefeated. The Blue Streaks raised their record to 2-0-1 at Oberlin yesterday with a 3-1 victory.

Unlike its previous two games, the Streaks opened the scoring. Freshman Jim Dzuiba collected his first collegiate goal when he fired a 30-yard shot past the Oberlin goalkeeper at the 10:00 minute mark. Tony Turchi netted the second Carroll goal with a rocket drive 26:00 minutes into the first half.

Oberlin managed to cut the lead in half as the Yeomen hit a penalty kick midway through the second half. The Streaks, however, continued to control the game and put the contest out of reach as Lew Holubec converted a penalty kick in the 80th minute. That shot gave the sophomore four goals in three games.

In last Saturday's home match-up against Penn State-Behrend, the booters fell behind 2-0 in the first seven minutes. But before half-time, Holubec converted a free kick from 25 yards out to put the score at 2-1.

In the second half, it was Holubec again, tying the score at 2-2 with a low shot just inside the post. Both teams came close to winning the game before the match went into overtime. Only a goal line save by Brian Bishop kept the game tied.

Despite controlling much of the play, the Streaks could not find the net as the game ended in a 2-2 deadlock.

Saturday the Carroll booters will host Carnegie-Mellon in a 1:00 p.m. contest. Preceding the Carroll game, soccer alumni will face off in the annual McCarthy Game. Next Tuesday, Wooster will face the Streaks at home at 3:30.

Women spikers place second in tourney

by Dan Weaver

The women's volleyball team came inches away from the championship at the Oberlin College Early Bird Tournament, but the Lady Streaks could not contain the tough Kenyon spikers.

The Blue Streaks opened the tournament with a loss to Kenyon in two games, but the spikers came right back to defeat Mt. Vernon. The lady spikers then suffered another setback to Ohio Dominican to finish the day at 1-2.

On the second day, the Streaks started the day with an easy victory over Case Western Reserve. This put them in a tie for first place in their division.

The spikers advanced into the quarter finals against Washington and Jefferson, crushing W&J in two quick games. In the semi-finals the lady Streaks went up against a powerful Cedarville team, but pulled out a 2-1 victory.

Once again, though, the Kenyon team proved to be the stronger. The Blue Streaks fought a long, hard battle in this championship game, but were finally defeated in two close contests.

The team placed second in the tournament despite the loss of two starters from last year due to injuries.

The lady Blue Streaks are looking forward to their conference opener next Thursday against both Washington & Jefferson and Case Western Reserve. The games will be played at JCU beginning at 6:00 p.m.
