Knights pledging suspended

Tom O’Connell
Senior Staff Writer

The pledging ritual and number activities of the Knights of Columbus Fraternity have been unconstitutionally suspended as the Knights was four years before the University’s Hearing Board on charges that they were involved in a hazing incident resulting in the hospitalization of a pledge who suffered from alcohol poisoning. "My understanding is that the Knights of Columbus has been suspended by the university’s judicial council for violating the university's guidelines for pledging," said Patsach, the Petis campus president. "I don’t understand the good that you’re doing."

The University’s policy with regards to pledge activities and hazing were made clear in the memorandum of all instances of hazing during this semester," added Petis. "The university is required to take steps to prevent hazing in the future."

The University Hearing Board, which will hear the case in April, has no authority to suspend the fraternity members, Petis said. Also, they may suspend the charter of the fraternity if proper cause, the board may appeal to the hearing process another, including the state attorney general and the state board of health, to take action if necessary.

Senior member of the fraternity was suspended from the pledge program, Petis said. "Only pledge activities that have been suspended, our chapter facilities, and our chapter meetings have been suspended.

Debate appears at Nationals

Team of two makes repeat appearance at NDT

Paul Palmbo
Senior Staff Writer

For the second year in a row, the John Carroll debate team has qualified for the National Debate Tournament (NDT), which will take place this year at the Wake Forest University in North Carolina. This year marks the fifth time that John Carroll has qualified for NDT.

The team, led by coach Manny Teitelbaum, consists of senior Phil Becherer and junior Yolanda Duncan. "We have the potential to advance to the field of debate," said Teitelbaum. "I’m really glad he did it because it instilled self-discipline and helped me to prioritize what’s important."

Senior Yolanda Duncan attributes both her mother's and her father's push to be a doctor began at age six. "It's a rare, rare case that someone receives a full ride scholarship to medical school," said Duncan. "I really want to be at the National Debate Tournament," she said.

"Odd girl" returns to Carroll

Annie Dechant, formerly of Odd Girl Out, performed a free show in the Wolf-Polt last Thursday.

Duncan earns scholarship

Senior earns full ride to U of Cincinnati College of Medicine

University’s policy regarding the incident. "There is a hearing in the near future," said Duncan. "We have the potential to advance to the field of debate," said Teitelbaum. "I’m really glad he did it because it instilled self-discipline and helped me to prioritize what’s important."

Two years ago, the National Debate Tournament (NDT) was a national team that the university’s students were not very interested in. "It’s a rare, rare case that someone receives a full ride scholarship to medical school," said Duncan. "I really want to be at the National Debate Tournament," she said.

"Odd girl" returns to Carroll

Annie Dechant, formerly of Odd Girl Out, performed a free show in the Wolf-Polit last Thursday.
Chris Sukanen

American News Editor

NEWS

Two ancient treasures have been placed in the Central Library, in order to be displayed in the library to showcase their historical significance and cultural importance. The treasures are a collection of ancient manuscripts and artifacts that have been acquired by the library over the years. The display will feature rare items such as the Manuscript of the Dead Sea Scrolls, the Rosetta Stone, and a collection of early Christian manuscripts. The display will run for a limited time, and visitors are encouraged to come and see these treasures for themselves.

Class Election Results

The results of the class election are in, with the following candidates having been selected:

- President: Brian Lee
- Vice President: Sarah Brown
- Secretary: Emma Johnson
- Treasurer: Alex Martinez

The election was held to determine the executive board for the upcoming year, and the candidates were chosen based on their platform and campaign promises. The new executive board will work towards improving the student experience and addressing the needs of the student body.

DEBATE

A debate was held between two candidates for the position of Debate Team President, with the candidates discussing their platform and ideas for the team. The debate was held in the auditorium, and the audience was encouraged to ask questions and engage in the discussion. The debate was a valuable opportunity for the candidates to showcase their skills and ideas, and the audience was able to make an informed decision on who they believed would make the best leader for the team.

China ends military force in Taiwan

China has announced that it plans to end the military force in Taiwan, seen as a significant step towards peace and cooperation between the two countries. The announcement was made during a meeting of the country's top leaders, who discussed the issue and agreed on the steps needed to achieve this goal. The move is expected to be welcomed by many, as it represents a positive development in the relationship between China and Taiwan. The end of the military force is seen as a move towards peace and stability, and it is hoped that this will lead to further progress in the relationship between the two countries.

The Carroll News, March 28, 1996

International News & Business

Bishop excommunicates Catholics who belong to certain groups

Bishop John Doe has excommunicated a number of Catholics who belong to certain groups, including the New Age movement and the New Age Church. The Bishop's action is a response to growing concerns about the influence of these groups on the Catholic faith. The Bishop's decision is expected to be widely debated and criticized, with many expressing concern about the impact of this move on the Catholic community.

THE ONE AND ONLY

SYRACUSE ABDRO

Hong Kong Internships

Communications

- Media
- Film
- Marketing
- Finance
- Business Management
- International Relations
- Arts & Sciences
- Pre-Law

Major Motion Picture Studies

- Multinational Financial Institutions
- Hong Kong Television Network
- American Cinematheque
- Hong Kong Daily Newspaper

Language and Other courses

Apply Now and Gain International Work Experience

Scholarships Available
Crew team rows gently down the stream.

Lisa Marie Stetson
BartHuennekens

The water was pleasant, the temperature was warm, and the atmosphere was electric. The crew was in high spirits, and the anticipation was palpable. As the boat glided smoothly through the water, the team members were filled with a sense of camaraderie.

Margaret Butchart, Ari Kim, and the rest of the crew were fully immersed in the moment, their focus unwavering. The team had been practicing tirelessly, and their dedication paid off. They were determined to make the most of the day.

The boat was elegantly designed, with smooth lines and a polished surface. It was a testament to the craftsmanship of the builders and the dedication of the crew. The team members were proud of their boat, and they felt a deep sense of pride in their work.

The day had been long, but the crew was satisfied with their progress. They had rowed with determination and heart, and they knew that their hard work would pay off in the long run. As the boat gently drifted away, the team members were left with a sense of satisfaction and a newfound sense of purpose. They were ready to face whatever challenges lay ahead, knowing that they had the strength and resilience to overcome any obstacle.

The team had come a long way since their first meeting, and they were excited about the potential for the future. They knew that there was still much work to be done, but they were confident in their ability to achieve their goals. As they looked towards the horizon, they were filled with hope and vitality, ready to take on whatever lay ahead.

The team had made many sacrifices, but they had also gained so much. They had made new friends, learned new skills, and developed a sense of community. They were grateful for the opportunity to be a part of something so special, and they were determined to make the most of their time together.

As the boat gently pulled away from the shore, the team members looked out over the calm water, their faces lit up with a sense of wonder and excitement. They were ready to face whatever lay ahead, knowing that they had the strength and resilience to overcome any obstacle. They were the crew, and they were ready to make their mark.
Crew team rows gently down the stream

Lisa Marie Stickem

The college has a great tradition of rowing teams, and the crew team is always looking for new members. The crew team currently has around 20 members, and is always looking for new rowers to join.

The team practices Monday through Friday, and competes in local and regional races. The team also has a weekly regatta, where they race against other colleges in the area.

The team is coached by Coach Stickem, who has been with the team for several years. She is a former rower herself, and has a wealth of experience to share with her team.

"The team is a great group of people, and we are always looking for new members," Stickem said.

The team practices four times a week, and has a strong sense of community among its members. They are always looking for new rowers to join, and will provide all the equipment and support needed to get started.

"If you're interested in rowing, we would love to have you join us," Stickem said. "We are always looking for new members, and the team is a great group of people to be around."
Tarzan meets slap stick comedy

The Migrant Comedy Company

Jeffrey Titus

Malcolm Till

Till’s Tarzan meets below bar. Jeffrey was raised in his tender jungle years only to be discovered by Professor Rodriguez and adopted as one of his own. Deeply devoted to his adopted family, Jeffrey was kidnapping by the Nazis for his extensive knowledge of world history.

Every combination of humor and experimentation for each character is a literal contradiction. "The aura of the characters, but the onstage activity of a group of sketches might fit to give any indication of how the characters are put together," says Jeffrey. Jeffrey is a combination of the most theatrically gifted with the honest comic history on set.

The Living Cross

A gospel musical drama depicting the crucifixion of Jesus Christ and the origin of this show. As a memory of the crucifixion, making for a tension of several centuries.

The Cleveland Play House

The Cleveland Play House presents "Brecht continues Friday, March 29 and Saturday, March 30 Carroll students. Tickets for each play have been produced nationwide, including Los Angeles and both Broadway and off-Broadway shows. The show is directed by the play's director and produced by the Cleveland Play House, the largest professional theatre in the United States. The script is based on a world premiere at the Cleveland Play House in England, UK, 1995. The play is a two-act drama, which is set in the 16th century and tells the story of a young woman who returns to her hometown to write a novel. The Witch of Endor takes Manhattan

The Cleveland Play House presents

"Kahlil Gibran’s The Prophet"

Kahlil Gibran’s 1923 bestseller "The Prophet" is adapted by Peter Friedman, who also directs. "The play takes a look at the theme of self-reliance and the question of whether a person can be truly independent without the support of others. The play explores the idea of personal growth and the search for self-discovery." - Kilts Kahlil Gibran's "The Prophet" takes Manhattan:

The John Carroll University Department of Communications

The Carol News, March 28, 1996

Kim McAdams

Kahlil Gibran’s "The Prophet" takes Manhattan:

The Cleveland Play House presents

"Good Woman"

"People die, get married, have kids and grow old within a period of a year and a half..."

Kiefer's Witch of Endor Takes Manhattan

Kiefer's Witch of Endor Takes Manhattan:

The Carol News, March 28, 1996

Kim McAdams

"People die, get married, have kids and grow old within a period of a year and a half..."

Kiefer's Witch of Endor Takes Manhattan

"People die, get married, have kids and grow old within a period of a year and a half..."

The Carol News, March 28, 1996

Kim McAdams

"People die, get married, have kids and grow old within a period of a year and a half..."
Tarzan meets slap stick comedy

The Migrant Comedy Workers are Kim Allen, Mike Nessett, Brian Fox and Beth Beer. Look for this troupe’s next production, “The Living Word,” in the spring of 1996.

The Legend of Jokeboy

Jokeboy was written in remote jungle regions by the bush musics, and was developed by Bagdad comedy theater, which was taken over by Baghdad comedy theater. The show was performed in the desert and in the mountains.

The pace and variation of the material is formidable. There are on-the-ground performances, which are often spontaneously developed, and there are off-the-ground performances, which are often planned and rehearsed. The show is a mix of slapstick and storytelling, with a great deal of audience participation.

The show is called “The Legend of Jokeboy,” and the central character is Jokeboy, a young boy who was raised by his parents in a remote village, and who was adopted by a group of comedians.

The show ends with Jokeboy’s return to his village, where he is finally accepted by his father and mother.

Kiefer’s Witch of Endor takes Manhattan

In its 1993-94 off-Broadway off-Off production, Kiefer’s Witch of Endor takes Manhattan adapts Arthur Conan Doyle’s horror novel “The Woman in White” to the stage. Directed by Mark Lamos, the production is set in 1922 London, where a young woman named Florence takes over the role of the mysterious figure, known as “The Woman in White,” and is determined to uncover the truth behind the mystery.

The story is set in a London mansion, where Florence is hired as a governess. She discovers that the house is haunted by the ghost of a woman who was murdered there, and that the current owner of the house is under the control of a mysterious spirit.

The production is praised for its atmospheric setting, strong performances, and the use of modern technology to create a haunting and mysterious atmosphere.

If you go...

Kiefer’s Witch of Endor takes Manhattan is playing at the National Theatre of Scotland in London’s West End. For more information, call 071-497-3561 or visit the theater’s website at www.thenationaltheatre.org.uk.
SPORTS

The Carroll News, March 29, 1996

TK: Keystone cornerstone for JCU baseball

Karen Bachman
Staff Reporter

An all-state pitcher as a senior at Garfield Heights High School, Tom Morse is finding his feet as a pitcher and a leader on the baseball field.

"I want to be a leader on this team," Morse said. "I want to win as many games as I can and lead us to a conference championship and beyond." Morse is one of the top pitchers in the country and is expected to have a big impact on the team this season.

Tennis teams victorious

Women win two, men one last weekend

Shelene Sullivan
Staff Reporter

The John Carroll University tennis teams are beginning their seasons with a strong start. The women's team won two matches last weekend, while the men's team won one.

Men's track front step up

Dan Bansley
Staff Reporter

The John Carroll University men's track team has taken a step forward this season. The team has won two of its last three meets, including a victory over Oberlin College last weekend.

Summer at Loyola

Erin Kelleher
Staff Reporter

The University of Chicago Summer Sessions offers a wide range of courses and workshops for students looking to expand their horizons.

More courses

The university offers a variety of courses in different fields, including business, sciences, and the arts. Students can choose from a range of courses offered on campus or online.

Great teachers

The university is known for its excellent teachers, who are dedicated to helping students succeed.

More sessions

The university offers a variety of sessions throughout the year, including summer sessions, fall sessions, and winter sessions.

More choices

Students can choose from a wide variety of courses and programs, allowing them to find the perfect fit for their needs and interests.

Pitt's all-new summer program offers you more of what you need

Pitt's all-new summer program offers you more of what you need.

More courses

- Transferable courses offered during days, evenings, and Saturdays
- 4, 6, and 12-week summer session types
- Easy registration by email
- Economical tuition for PA residents

Registration begins March 11

To register for Summer 1996 Schedule, mail the 1996 Summer Program Information Package to:

Pitt University Campus
Pittsburgh, PA 15260

Call (412) 384-4000, or E-mail: enroll@pitt.edu

Schoenstatt Center

The Schoenstatt Center is located on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. It offers a variety of programs and workshops for adults.

Add. staff

- Campus Housing
- Dining Services
- University Store
- Medical Services
- Career Services
- Library Services
- Counseling Services
- Recreational Services
- Athletics
- Performing Arts

Printed by

University of Pittsburgh Press
Pittsburgh, PA 15260

Copyright

© 1996 University of Pittsburgh

Schoenstatt Center

The Schoenstatt Center is located on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. It offers a variety of programs and workshops for adults.
Tennis teams victorious

Men win two, women one last weekend

By Steven Sullivan
Staff Reporter

At John Carroll University, tennis teams are beginning their runs for their respective Ohio Athletic Conference Championships. They are already off to promising starts.

Do you know that the 19th century was known for its...
A truly major problem

By looking at the calendar (or getting a yellow reminder card in one's mailbox), one realizes that the time is rapidly approaching for the AIPS in preparation for Fall '96 course registration. By looking at the registration book! Glancing through the course lists of many departments, it becomes glaringly apparent that the list is very short in length. And no, the printer did not switc

The fact that many departments are not offering any courses this fall may or may not be true, and while this is the effect of several different causes, a major one is far too often not looked at—limited funds, caused by lack of new students. Professors numbering (at least) 40 in all have become major contributors to the state's fiscal woes, and most are looking only at their personal lives, not at the great responsibility they have to the students.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

The reason for the lack of professors is identified as the administration's decision to cut back on elective courses. When I was there, there were several English classes that I enjoyed. But no, the printer did not switch. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.

A dearth of classes will likely lead to fewer students enrolling, thereby leading to that cycle of less money for professors. And so, instead of driving MostClevelanders are still outraged by the Cleveland Indians' decision to build a new stadium than on the schools. And while this is the effect of several different causes, a reason behind all of this is a lack of professors to teach the classes. If a few more professors need to be brought into a department, three of the department's faculty will each be teaching a class for the entire year, which is not because the professors are too lazy; it's because there aren't enough professors.
A truly major problem

By looking at the calendar (or getting a yellow reminder card in one’s mailbox), one realizes that the time is now to be filling out one’s AP in preparation for full Fall 1996 course registration. (By the registration book yell! Glancing through the course lists of many departments, it becomes apparent that some of the lists are very short in length. And on the primer did not solicit!

The fact that many departments are not offering nearly as many classes as they have in the past, and while this is the effect of several different causes, a major one is clearly the elimination of several courses by the new curriculum. (The new core requires that some classes have been eliminated by the new core.

In the presence of so many great distractions, it may be able to do a better job of understanding and great effort. It seems that we are all guilty of what is often called the “sunset city” effect, where the sun is at its highest and the sky is clear.

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

In 1994, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.

Baseball and books: We are fans of both

Little bit of advice that is really true. Summer is here, and all of the books are out. So, let us all enjoy the summer and have a great time. It is a great time to read.

The Syllabus

OPINION

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

This commentary is really about how the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.

Baseball and books: We are fans of both

Little bit of advice that is really true. Summer is here, and all of the books are out. So, let us all enjoy the summer and have a great time. It is a great time to read.

The Syllabus

OPINION

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

This commentary is really about how the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.

Baseball and books: We are fans of both

Little bit of advice that is really true. Summer is here, and all of the books are out. So, let us all enjoy the summer and have a great time. It is a great time to read.

The Syllabus

OPINION

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

This commentary is really about how the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.

Baseball and books: We are fans of both

Little bit of advice that is really true. Summer is here, and all of the books are out. So, let us all enjoy the summer and have a great time. It is a great time to read.

The Syllabus

OPINION

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

This commentary is really about how the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.

Baseball and books: We are fans of both

Little bit of advice that is really true. Summer is here, and all of the books are out. So, let us all enjoy the summer and have a great time. It is a great time to read.

The Syllabus

OPINION

The poor man’s weapon of mass destruction...a better battlefield tool than biologicals and great for terror.

Cardinal Roger Mahony

A few weeks ago, the Cleveland City Council approved the Cuyahoga County Health Department’s plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

On May 10, 1996, the Cleveland City Council approved the plan to remove the Historic Child Welfare Building on Superior Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The building is to be demolished and replaced by a new structure.

This commentary is really about how the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series. Everyone knows that the Cleveland Indians have won the World Series.

Reflections on the future

Very few people have the opportunity to sit back and reflect on what the future will bring. But for those of us who have this opportunity, we can see that the future is going to be very different.

The Department of Political Science has had several opportunities to observe the world from different perspectives.
Part Time: Drive woman to doctor appointments and help with errands. Flexible hours. Call 255-8774

Seeking: Corporation looking for a summer intern (full-time), in Employee communications and public affairs. Rate of pay $7.75/hr. For more info contact: Therese Maciak, 645-3680.

Life guards Wanted: Notre Dame College, Pays Big bucks, Call Hires: 381-1680 ext. 305

Part-Time Jobs Leading To Full-Time Careers

Another John Carroll University Student Success Story...

Outward account representatives contact potential MBNA Customers to offer custom-designed credit cards. "It helped...I had some questions about telemarketing at first...I began to see just what MBNA had to offer our graduates." MBNA offers stable part-time positions that fit your class schedules. MBNA provides outstanding opportunities for personal and professional growth. "Since working at MBNA I have gained invaluable work experience and advanced several times." MBNA has hired more than 100 JCU graduates and part-time representatives into full-time career positions.

"I was in a great position to grow with them because I took advantage of the opportunities available through the part-time telemarketing positions. Upon graduation in May, I plan to go full-time and work my way into a management position."

Call today for more information or visit our office to complete an application.

MBNA Marketing Systems, Inc.
20990 Science Park Drive
Beachwood, Ohio 44122

Call (216) 399-4518

* Minimum of 16 hours a week
* Day and evening shifts available
* $7.00 an hour plus monthly incentives ($8.79 average rate if you)

Gurgle, Hope you have a happy birthday and make sure you_shuffle.