ALUMNI PLANS BIG FETE TO AID A. A.

Three Day Carnival is Scheduled For June 23-25

Have you got a job lined up for the months of vacation? Whether you name or not, you never have no time getting to work immediately after the term ends, so that at least one of the earned pay envelopes will remain in your pocket, or under the rug or wherever you keep such trifles. This is not the way to use the months of vacation, if the months of vacation will be in vain. All of which goes to show you of two things. either the vacation weeks are the very weeks you cannot afford to waste, or you are not thoroughly prepared. Two of which goes to prove one of two things. either the vacation weeks are the very weeks you cannot afford to waste, or you are not thoroughly prepared.

A three weeks vacation means at least one week of preparation before the vacation begins. The preparation must be started the evening of the last day of school. All of which goes to show you of two things. either the vacation weeks are the very weeks you cannot afford to waste, or you are not thoroughly prepared.

Preparing for the vacation requires no less than two days in June, then certainly we are under the supervision of Mr. Thomas. In addition, we must have a complete list of the winn ers.

Three Day Carnival For the Benefit of Athletics at the University

The Three Day Carnival will take place on the evening of June 25, inclusive, and if Lowell was to offer a bazaar and a tent, while the games and other arrangements are given the blessing of the committee.

THEY WON FOR CARROLL

McAuley, Lyden and Carrabine Ranked Among First Ten in Intercollegiate Contest

Just another demonstration of the fact that was repeatedly won by the University of Connecticut. That is the simple story of the recent Intercollegiate Latin Contest. The University of Connecticut was the first to win the contest, and the University of Connecticut will win the second time. The contest was held on the University of Connecticut campus, and the University of Connecticut will win the second time.

"City of Erie" is Chartered to Carry Flags of Carroll U. on Festive Excursion

There is a day not far distant when the Carroll citizens will flock to Penn Field to watch the game push it over; nor to the Alleghenies, to give the world of their activities. It is the day of the annual anniversary of Erie, the "City of "W" and, from all accounts, as dangerous a city as ever existed. The name is derived from the Indian word "Erie," which means "the place of the Indians.

During School Days, K. P. Guenther, from a trip to Lexington, Ky., to the C.C.A. on the Middle West and South tour in 2000, will be an interesting speaker on "Theata in a Christian City." Fr. Kleist's paper will be an interesting one. Those who have attended the convention will be interested in the paper. A good time is certain.

Orchestra Receives Classical Records

One hundred new sound, imported records, including works of Beethoven, Brahms, have been received by Mr. William J. Cass. The orchestra will begin to play this music at the next meeting.

Preface To An Unwritten Novel
By John H. Liles, Jr.

The world of letters is a busy place, and it is not uncommon for a writer to find himself working on a novel that has yet to be written. It is a place where the imagination roams free, and where the writer can explore the depths of his own mind. In this article, I will share some thoughts on the process of writing a novel that has yet to be written.

The story involves a young man who has just graduated from college and is searching for a sense of purpose in life. He decides to travel to Europe to find himself, and along the way he meets a group of people who help him to understand the complexities of life. The story is filled with themes of love, friendship, and the search for meaning in the world.

In conclusion, the process of writing a novel that has yet to be written is a challenging one, but it is also a rewarding one. It is a chance to explore the depths of one's own mind, and to share those explorations with others. It is a chance to create something that will live on long after the writer is gone. I hope that you will enjoy reading this novel, and I hope that you will find something to take away from it.

To My Teacher
By Edward A. Talbot, Sr.

A teacher is like a lighthouse, guiding their students through the rough waters of life. They are there to support and encourage their students, to help them to navigate the challenges and obstacles that come their way. A teacher is like a compass, giving their students a sense of direction and purpose.

In conclusion, a teacher is an essential part of our lives, and it is important that we take the time to appreciate the impact that they have on us. They are there to help us to become the best version of ourselves, and we should be grateful for their guidance.

Thoughts
By E. T. South, Jr.

Life is a journey, and it is one that we must all take. It is a journey that is filled with challenges and obstacles, but it is also a journey that is filled with opportunities and growth. We must be open to the possibilities that life presents to us, and we must be willing to take risks in order to find our way.

In conclusion, life is a journey, and we must all be willing to take risks in order to find our way. We must be open to the possibilities that life presents to us, and we must be willing to learn from our mistakes. Life is a journey, and we must all be open to the possibilities that it presents to us.

Determination

Determination is the key to success. It is the determination that makes one succeed. It is the will to succeed that makes one strong. It is the determination that makes one succeed in life.

It was a glorious Prom. No one who never danced before could ever realize what it meant. But anyhow, it was a wonderful affair.

First they served soup. When Frank Kyes got his first look at the orchestra in the half-room, he loudly announced that the musicians had been playing all the time.

We took this occasion, not to mention opportunities, to convince the gentleman who remarked that the present staff of the Ignatian was not chosen for ability, but for some peculiarity, for example. He was named circulation manager because he has access to the Chern lab's beakers and sponges, which are so essential to sealing the wrappers when the papers are sent out. Then, he said, because the young lady secretaries have to work out in the lab, and so on, all the time. Outside of such work, we might have our own peculiarities.

The new world record in the sixty yard high hurdles has been set by Carl Schachins of the Normal High School, St. Louis, Mo., and looks like being broken. The former record of eight seconds was held by Robert F. Kelly at the University of Southern California.

A Suggestion

A Proposal by Ted Brown

When one is invited to speak at a meeting of a club, one rarely hears a proposal but rather a suggestion. While it may be true that suggestions are easier to make than proposals, it is also true that suggestions are more likely to be ignored. In this case, I propose that the members of this club consider the following:

East Siders Out-Argue Ignatians on Bonus Question

On Friday evening, April 26, the 186th meeting of the "East Siders" was held at St. Ignatius High School. The topic was "The Bonus Question." The debate was held in the auditorium of the school, with the East Siders taking the affirmative side, and the Ignatians taking the negative side.

The debate centered on the issue of the Bonus Question, a proposal to extend the unemployment insurance program for veterans. The East Siders argued that the Bonus Question was necessary to provide financial support for veterans, while the Ignatians argued that it was unnecessary and would be a drain on the economy.

The debate was lively and well-argued, with both sides presenting strong points. In the end, the East Siders were declared the winners, with a score of 21-17.

DEBATE DECISION IS WON BY C.L.S.

East Siders Out-Argue Ignatius on Bonus Question

On Friday evening, April 26th, University School and Catholic Latin School debated the question, "Should the United States Congress Establish an Armed Contingent?" This afternoon was held at Ignatius High School, 2080 Detroit Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, with Mr. George C. Glendenning, President of the University School, and Mr. Vincent J. O'Sullivan, President of the Catholic Latin School, presiding over the debate.

The debate was held in the gymnasium, with the U.S. Congress as the subject of discussion. The affirmative side was represented by Mr. John J. O'Brien, University School, and the negative side by Mr. John J. Flaherty, Catholic Latin. Both sides had ample time to prepare for the debate, which lasted for an hour and a half.

The affirmative side argued that the establishment of an armed contingent would be beneficial to the United States, as it would provide a means of protecting the country from foreign invasion. The negative side countered that the establishment of an armed contingent would be a waste of money and that the government should focus on more important issues.

In the end, the affirmative side won the debate, with a vote of 11 to 10. The decision was made by the members of the United States Congress, who were present as witnesses.

roaring the standard

The splendid showing made by Carroll in the recent Intercollegiate English Contest is a fair indication of the standard of scholarship maintained here at the university. Carroll has always held an exalted position in the world of letters, and her students have always displayed a congenial spirit of willingness and industry. With few exceptions, the men who are attending Carroll at the moment are doing望着 exceedingly well. Carroll has never been better. She has won the foremost rank of scholarly eminence and is still defending her banner.

These facts are highly significant. They prove conclusively that the men who are attending Carroll University are making a commendable effort to maintain the high standard of scholarship which Carroll has always maintained. They show that there is no lack of enthusiasm and pep in all school activities. And they prove conclusively that the standard cannot possibly be brought down to Carroll's men.
